MEETING OF COUNCIL

The Borough Officials Met Monday Evening in City Hall.

A PRUNER ORPHANAGE

Was Discussed, The Report of The Meeting Held at Tyrone Was Read by Chairman Shuey Who is in Favor of The Orphanage

SEVEN MEMBERS OF COUNCIL PRESENT

The regular semi-monthly session of the borough council was held on Monday evening with President Keller in the chair and the following members present: Kirk, Shuey, Wagner, Beezer, Judge, Hamilton.

A petition was presented by the trustees of the Bellefonte Hospital opposing the building of the Pruner Orphanage claiming that it would endanger the future of the hospital and that it was contrary to the wishes of the late Col. Pruner who had drawn up a will just a few days before his death in which there was no mention of a Pruner Orphanage. But he died without signing this later will.

The question of sewerage was then taken up and at the suggestion of Chairman Hamilton of the Street Committee, Borough Solicitor Mitchell read three proposed ordinances which he had drawn up for that purpose. The sewers are to be established on Bishop, Howard and Allegheny streets. All property owners on these streets will be assessed 35cents a foot for each foot fronting on the streets where the sewers pass and all who tap the sewers $2.50 per each tap. The matter was held over in order to give the property owners notice of what council proposes to do.

The next thing in order was the report of the Pruner Orphanage committee which was submitted by Chairman Shuey. The report of the committee showed that Tyrone was strongly in favor of the Orphanage and were ready to do their part if Bellefonte would do hers. If Bellefonte refused she would petition court to have other trustees appointed in order that the will of Col. Pruner be carried out.

The following is the committee's report in full:

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON THE PRUNER ORPHANAGE.

"Your Committee composed of C. C. Shuey, Philip Beezer and Thaddeus Hamilton, appointed at the last meeting to confer with a like Committee of Tyrone Borough Council, in reference to the E. J. Pruner Home for Friendless Children, herewith submit their report:

On Friday noon the undersigned by appointment proceeded to Tyrone where they were met by Dr. Thomas Tobin and H. L. Orr, of the Tyrone Borough's Council Committee. The third member of said Committee Mr. Jacob Hoffman, unavoidably was absent from town; and together made a brief inspection of the Hoover Block and the Pruner Building, after which all proceeded to the Tyrone Council Chambers. In the absence of Mr. Hoffman, Harry Hesser, president of the Tyrone Council, was summoned to supply this vacancy. At once the conference was opened by reading ordinance No. 157, which had been passed by Tyrone Council for the appointment of a Board of Managers for the E. J. Pruner Home for Friendless Children; and which had been prepared jointly by the representatives of both Councils —Tyrone and Bellefonte. Said ordinance, we were informed, was passed by Tyrone Council, but up to this time Bellefonte Council had taken no action upon it. The information prevailed that this ordinance was carefully drawn and fully covered every point for which it was intended. Extracts were then read from the Pruner will and legal opinions upon the same were also read and considered. The recent financial report of F. M. Waring was read and discussed as well as the estimated value of the above mentioned properties. The gentlemen of Tyrone took no exception to Mr. Waring's estimates; in fact, approved of the same. The intimation in that report, that Tyrone may rescind the taxes on the Hoover and Pruner Building, of about $312.00 per annum, received their emphatic objection, stating that if Bellefonte got an institution supported by rentals coming from Tyrone, Bellefonte should at least rescind the taxes on the Home established in their community. At the conclusion of the discussion the point was raised that the object of the conference was uncertain. In order to obtain a definite report your Committee solicited an expression from the Tyrone Committee as to their attitude at this time in regard to the E. J. Pruner will, and the advisability of establishing this Home, as therein provided. In behalf of the Tyrone Committee, and as well as for the Council of Tyrone, President Hesser spoke in substance as follows:

Tyrone was willing long ago to do its duty, and has waited for over a year for Bellefonte to pass this Ordinance (157) which was prepared jointly, for the Board of Managers &c., or it there is any objection to the provisions of the Ordinance to state it and offer something better. This is the sense of the Tyrone Council, that if Bellefonte does not take definite action within a reasonable time, it will become the duty of the Tyrone to present a petition to Court asking that other Trustees be appointed in place of Bellefonte Council, and who will be willing to act as Trustees to cooperate with Tyrone in an endeavor to carry out the directions of E. J. Pruner deceased, as expressed in his will.

The above expression was repeated and received the assent of Messrs. Orr and Tobias, members of the Committee. It was also stated that while rentals came out of Tyrone, they had but one plain duty—establish a Board of Managers immediately, who should at once control the current funds, now amounting to two or three thousand dollars, and invest them at a profitable rate of interest, thus earning something instead of lying as an idle deposit in the bank; and when finances permitted equip and open the Home, and if after a reasonable trial and an honest effort, it should prove unwise to continue the institution the bequest should be turned over entirely to Sallie M. Hayes, as Col. Pruner evidently desired and plainly told in his will.

Attest.

H. L. ORR, C. C. SHUEY,
W. H. HESSER, PHILIP BEEZER
THOMAS TOBIN, THAD. HAMILTON,

Dr. Kirk moved that the resolution to rescind the ordinance heretofore passed by Council accepting the Orphanage be rescinded as it was never advertised and not in proper form. It was seconded by Wagner. The motion carried, the ayes being Kirk, Shuey, Wagner, Beezer, Hamilton; nays, Judge and Keller. This motion of Dr. Kirk, was to clear the way for the passing of an ordinance appointing a Board of Managers for the Orphanage. The millage for the year 1907 was fixed at 3 mills boro, 5 mills street and 5 mills interest.

The following bills were approved and orders drawn:

A New Bakery In Town.

Mrs. John Hull who is known all over the town for the splendid bread she bakes and the demand for the same has grown so large that she will have erected a large bake oven in order to supply her customers. If you have never tasted the good bread she bakes, you certainly should try it. And then you get your money's worth, great large loaves for 5 and 10 cents. Mrs. Hull bakes now 80 and 90 loaves a day and with the large oven which she will put in she will be able to bake five times that much. We wish her all the success in the world.

Mrs. Michel Segner Dead.

On July 4th, Mrs. Michael Segner died at her home at Boalsburg aged 60 yrs. 4 mo. and 7 days. She was a most estimable lady and was an earnest worker. She was a member of the Lutheran church at that place. She leaves to mourn her death five sons and four daughters. The funeral will occur on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev Birkstresser will officiate.

THIRTY-SEVEN LIVES TAKEN

On Altar of Frenzied Patriotism 2,153 on List of Injured.

FIRE LOSS $340,555

Roster of Dead is More than last Year—New York Leads in Casualties.

BELLEFONTE WAS VERY FORTUNATE

Chicago, July 6.—Thirty-seven dead, 2,153 injured and a fire loss of $340,555 is the statistical record of the country's celebration of Independence day, according to the Chicago Tribune's annual compilation. The direct causes of the fatalities are as follows:

By fireworks, 17; cannon, 4; by fire arms, 9; by gunpowder, 2, by toy pistols, 1; by runaways, 3.

Injured: By fireworks, 1,046; by cannon, 222; by fire arms, 292; by gun powder, 347; by toy pistols, 205; by runaways, 41.

The roster of the dead is four more than last year's mortality. A year ago 33 persons were dead on the morning after the fourth. New York leads all in the number of killed and injured. Pittsburg ran New York a close second, nine persons yielding up their lives on the altar of frenzied patriotism. Chicago, although the second city of the country, only two dead to the nation's total.

Pittsburg, July 6.—Children wounded and lying in the arms of parents, others totally blinded or arms and legs broken and bodies mamed; the noise driving at least one man insane and to death carnage seldom seen in time of peace, with all known local records of casualties broken—awful, but truthful and only partly portrayed, is the summery of accidents caused by almost frantic recklessness in Greater Pittsburg Thursday in connection with the celebration of the Fourth of July.

The records of many years back were broken upon to 9 o'clock Friday morning, when a total number of 15 violent deaths in Allegheny county were reported to the coroner's office. This list includes two alleged murders and one suicide, besides numerous accidental deaths. Thirty two serious injuries have also been reported and a hundred or more suffering from minor accidents.

HAS FORGOTTEN HIS NAME.

Seems Bright Other Ways.

Far back in the mountains west of Muney, this state, in a little cabin on Lebo run there lives a man in solitude. Who he is no one may ever know, for he has forgotten his name, and he has not a relative in the world. He has forgotten the year of his birth, the present year, the month and day of the week.

Season after season he has lived in these forests by fishing and hunting, and scarcely a camping party enters the hills but that benefits by his expertness with the rod and line. He is a veteran, and has lost an arm but this misfortune has not kept him from being skillful as a trout fisherman. The "speckled beauties" farm the chief source of his livelihood, and a meal does not pass that he does not enjoy the rich treat. Campers in the woods share delicacies with him.

Every little stream in the whole section is an open book to the man, and he has caught several thousand trout this year. Folks about the nearest towns believe him to be Edward English, a well known man of that part of the country, but no one knows. No mental impairment has caused him to lose track of his lineage, but he confesses that an infrequent use of his appellation has made him forget.

Petrikin Hall to be Opened

In a week or two the Petrikin Hall auditorium will be opened for the entire year. A gentleman from New York state has leased the hall for one year and expects to run a moving pictures and illustrated song entertainment at that place every afternoon and evening. It is certainly a delightful location for any thing of that kind and we have no doubt but that the stranger will do a big business. It will be opened for business in about two weeks.

PASSED TO HIS REWARD.

James Kane Passed Away Saturday Night June 29th.

After weeks of agony and suffering Jame Kane has at last entered into rest. Some time ago when on his way from work at the American Lime and Stone works he accidentally slipped while walking across the tressle below the P. R. R. engine house, and when he fell he struck the side of his neck on a rail, for semetime he was troubled with this injury, but kept on working. It gradually grew worse and after months of suffering he went to a specialist in Philadelphia and they could not help him. It seems as though the injury had developed into cancer and was beyond medical aid. He came home a few weeks ago and has been growing gradually worse until death ended his suffering at the above mentioned time.

Six months ago on Saturday his sister Miss Kane died. Three months after his sister's death, his son Bert passed away and now he has gone home; just in nine months three have been taken out of one family. How clearly Gods word comes to us when he says 'Watch and pray, for ye know not the day nor the hour when the Son of man cometh" for in the midst of life we are in death.

The deceased was an honest hard working man and has raised a large family. He has filled the positions of fireman and engineer at the American Lime and Stone Co. works, and his work was always performed in a satisfactory manner. Since his health failed he has been working around the Court house as tipstaff.

James Kane was born near Hublersburg and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kane. He was almost 55 years of age. He was a sincere member of the St. John's Catholic church and always lived according to that faith.

He leaves to mourn his death his loving wife Margaret, and the following children: Lose, Gertrude, Stella, Agnes, Julia, John, James, Joseph, Bernard, Kathrine and Vincent, and the following brothers and sister John of Lock Haven; Daniel, of Arnold; Thomas, Oil City; and Margaret, of Bellefonte

July 2nd at 10 a. m. the remains of James Kane were laid away in the tomb. The services conducted in the St. John's Catholic church were sad and impressive. Interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. The casket bearers were the following gentlemen: Col. H S. Taylor, John C. Rowe, William G. Runkle, Michael Shields, John Trafford and Harry Flack.

Feeling Bad After the Fourth.

"Fourth of July would be all right if one could just escape living through the Fifth and Sixth," remarked a young man on Saturday evening as he passed up High street, and the fellow certainly did look like he talked.

Perhaps the "cherries" he took in "his" weren't of the right sort, but this matter not as he was to all indications feeling down and out, cherries or just plain. But after all even the total abstainer from the beveredges which cheer at dusk cause one to threaten becoming a follower of the "White Ribbon" hosts, the morning after feels groggy, the day following the celebration of release from those Britons, who conducted affairs over here before the home grown grafters, and may be we are incorrect in our judgment as to the real cause of the maker of the foregoing assertion feeling so miserable.

Perhaps the young man picked the wrong ones at Hecla Park and was feeling in accord with the sentiment of the appended lines.

"When one is flush and rolls the coin,
This world is cream and honey.
But how it turns to blue sour milk,
When one has lost his money.

Francis Murphy Laid Away

Los Angeles.—The body of Francis Murphy, "aposial of temperance," was buried at Rosedale cemetary Wednesday after services at the Simpson auditorium where the body lay in state for three hours.

Men prominent in the affairs of Southern California, who have been associated with the dead evangelist in his temperperance work acted as pall bearers. Addresses were made by Rev. Dewitt Talmage, Robert J. Burdette and Dr. Robert McIntyre.

By order of the mayor flags throughout the city were displayed at half mast. A remarkable tribute to the memory of Mr. Murphy was the movement instituted by liquor men to close all saloons in the city during the hours the body lay in state. A public memorial service will be held next Sunday.

LOCK HAVEN HAS TORNADO

Much Damage Brought to Crops and Buildings.

MANY TREES UPROOTED

The Full Force of the Storm was Felt in the City—Buildings Were Over-turned.

COWS HURLED ACROSS HIGH FENCES

(This account of the fearful tornado at Lock Haven Monday was taken from the Lock Haven Democrat.)

Lock Haven was visited by one of the severest storms yesterday afternoon at about 4 o'clock that ever struck this picturesque and mountain sheltered city. It was in the nature of a hurricane, for aside from the terrific wind, large quantities of hail fell and the rain came down in torrents.

The storm came up, out of the west and moved along rapidly. Fortunately it was of short duration, for in half an hour all was over and the sun shined brilliantly on the wreckage and damage left behind, as the feared messenger of destruction passed off to the southeast to continue the work of ruin.

All over the city the force of the storm was felt, for here and there a tree was snapped off, and growing vegetation was beaten to the ground, but in the southwestern section the storm was in the nature of a cyclone, and did several thousand dollors worth of damage. In no other portion of the city, in fact, did the storm sweep on with such mighty power as it did on South Fairview street, South High street, South Jones street, Peach street, Linden street and about the paper mill.

While no buildings were carried away or no person was injured, as far as can be learned, the ruin wrought is everywhere apparent in that section of the city, and many days of hard toil put in gardens has been all for naught, for the crops and plants have been cut and stripped by the large hail stones which fell for a short time.

In the destruction of trees along the loss will be considerable. Not only were peach, plum and apple trees torn in twain and swept right out of the ground, but large maple and other shade trees were uprooted and hurled to one side, which shows the great force of the wind. In any direction one looks on South Fairview street or on the other streets thereabouts, can be seen trees torn from the ground, and last night and today the man with the axe was in evidence.

A portion of a large willow tree standing in the street near W. I. Harvey's new residence on South Fairview street, was blown over on the trolly wire, breaking it. Several hours elapsed before the tree was cut away and the broken wire replaced. Until that was done trolley passengers were transferred at that point.

In several apple orchards on the west side of Fairview street, one-third of the trees were either uprooted or else the limbs were split off.

On the Fourth ward school grounds a maple tree was blown over while two others were split.

It is estimated that over 100 trees were either uprooted or split in that section alone.

But the damage wrought by the wind was not confined to trees alone. The elements seemed to have a fancy for windows, for hundreds of panes of glass were broken. Indeed, some buildings, notably the Dennehy grocery at the corner of Fairview and Peach streets, hardly a whole pane of glass left in any of the sashes. This building received the full force of the storm, as did also the paper mail, on the north side of which nearly every pane of glass, over 100, were blown out or were broken by the large hail stones. Many more houses are minus more or less glass, and big demands are being made on the hardware stores to replace the same. To look at some of these buildings one gets the impression that they have been bombarded by an enemy.

A dozen or more chimneys were blown from houses situated in the path of the storm, fences were torn down and small outbuildings overturned.

The large barn on the McClintick dairy farm, about 60x40 feet in dimensions, was moved off its foundation about two feet twisted and put out of plumb by the force of the wind.

Two cows belonging to Hutch McClintick, which were grazing in a field near the power house, were swept off their feet by the wind and hurled clear over a board fence. Several persons were eye witnesses of this and vouch for the statement.

A lounge, which had been placed on the porch of Frank Kidd's home on Fairview street, was lifted up by the wind and hurled against two piers under the other end of the porch with such force as to wreck the supports and let the porch down. A washing machine was also lifted from the porch and carried into the back yard.

Fred Weaver's house at the corner of Peach and High streets was damaged considerably by a large tree falling against it and breaking in some of the window frames.

CROPS RUINED IN NITTANY VALLEY.

In east Nittany Valley the storm was the most severe ever witnessed by the present residents. The storm broke through the Castenea gap and swept the valley from that point on east, almost totally destroying the growing crops of wheat, oats and corn besides uprooting the trees of many orchards. Starting at the Ricker farm, no farms escaped the ravages of the storm east of that point and Ricker, Snyder, Purcell, Barner and many others have their wheat, oats, corn and grass beaten into the earth by the hail and in low places covered up by the heavy downpour of rain. The east end school building was unroofed and a part of the brick wall blown down. The roof was carried to an adjoining field. The loss will reach more than a thousand dollars to several individual farmers.

MRS. CLARA MOYER DEAD.

Entered into Rest at Twelve o'clock Friday night—Former Bellefonte Lady.

Just at the turn of the midnight hour the spirit of Mrs. Clara Moyer of Tyrone took its flight into the reims of glory. Mrs. Moyer had been ill only a short time with Brights disease, and during that time she has been a most patient sufferer. When she was summoned she was ready and waiting, for her life has been lived according to the christian faith. Mrs. Moyer was a woman of rare culture and refinement. The highest ideals of her life were centered in her home and there her gracious kindly nature spread an atmosphere of pure womanhood. She was a faithful, loving mother whose memory will be a blessing to her children. As a neighbor she was kind and helpful and will be greatly missed in the community where she lived. She will be missed in the church as she was an earnest worker in all the matters pertaining to this religious organization. Mrs. Clara R. Moyer was a daughter of the late William and Clara Pruner of Bellefonte. She was married in 1882 to Andrew C. Moyer who met his death in a railroad accident in 1903. She was 47 years of age and leaves to mourn her death the following children: Mrs. B. J. Hiltner, Miss Lucy Moyer and one son Edmund. The funeral will be held at her late home in Tyrone on Tuesday morning at 9:30. Services to be conducted by Rev. George T. Gunter D. D. pastor of the First Presbyterian church of the above mentioned city.

On Tuesday afternoon the body of the late Mrs. Clara Moyer was brought to Bellefonte on the 1.23 train from Tyrone. The interment was made directly from from the train. The body rested in a beautiful silver gray casket which was covered with beautiful flowers. The services at the grave were conducted by her pastor, Rev. George Gunter of the First Presbyterian church of Tyrone assisted by Rev. J. Allison Platts of the Presbyterian church of Bellefonte. Those who accompanied the remains to Bellefonte were the following ladies and gentlemen: Mr. B. J. Hiltner and wife, Miss Lucy and Mr. Edmund Moyer, Mrs. J. W. Hedding, Mrs. Thomas Middleton, Mrs. S. E. Stewart, Mrs. Frank Howe, Mrs. J. A. Hiltner, Mrs. John Lucas, Mrs. David Canan, Mrs. Harry Bell, Rev. George Gunter, Miss Gertrude Hiltner, Miss Myrtle Lucas and Mrs. T. M. Warring. The casket bearers were the following gentlemen: Messrs. Thomas Middleton, J. W. Hedding, W. E. Camp and T. M. Warring.

Tyrone Picnic at Hecla Park.

The great Tyrone picnic for this season will be held at Hecla Park on Thursday August 27. The Business Men's association fixed upon the date and place at Friday night's meeting, and now it is up to all the people of the town to make the picnic a rousing success. The special picnic train will run directly to Hecla Park without change.

SQUIRES WAS KNOCKED OUT

In First Round With Tommy Burns.

THOUSANDS PRESENT

And That They were Disappointed is Putting the Verdict Mildly.

JIM JEFFERIES WAS THE REFEREE

San Francisco, Cal, July 4.—Bill Squires, the much heralded champion of Australia, succumbed to the blow of a Canadian at Colma on the Fourth, after being in the ring two minutes with Tommy Burns. The men who witnessed the brief meeting between the two pugilists were charitable enough not to call him a "dub." They designated him a "false alarm" who should have been pitted against a fourth rate fighter rather than any pugilist with the slightest porsession of ring skill.

To say that the 9,000 persons who journeyed out to Colma to witness the fight were disappointed would be putting it mildly. It was a hot day and the journey to Colma was a disagreeable one. Hundreds of persons came from other states to see the fighters and anticipated a keen up to the scratch fight. From the standpoint of the spectator who witnessed the fight they looked for a better showing than Squires made.

That the defensive skill of the Australian was exceedingly poor was speedily attested for in two minutes he was prone on the mat. Burn's first struck him prone on the jaw. The two came into a clinch immediately but were quickly separated in the centre of the ring by Jim Jeffries, referee.

Burns lost no time in following up the advantage he had gained so early. Out shot the dangerous right again and a second time the champion of Australia was on the canvas with Jeffries standing over him slowly calling off the seconds. But the end was not yet, Squires evidently had some staying powers in the face of punishment administered to him and arose weakly and slowly, while Jeffries held back Burns until his adversary was in a position to defend himself.

But Squires had little defense left. The blow on the jaw had accomplished its results and the men were barely in position again when the Canadian resumed his telling aggressive campaign. Burns landed where and when he pleased and in a few seconds, under a rain of blows, the arms of his opponent dropped helpless to his side. Burns deliberately selected his mark and with all of the power that was lodged in his shoulders sent the right to the jaw. There was not a spectator in the arena that did not realize that the fight was over and a rush was made to the ring to congratulate the victor. The fight lasted exactly two minutes and eight seconds.

The fight proved nothing more than that Squires was an overrated man. Burns, while demonstrating his superiority over the Australian, did not have any opportunity to demonstrate whether he is actually entitled to the high pugilistic title that has been bestowed upon him.

"I saw the moving pictures of Squires in training. When I saw how he carried himself and how he acted I knew that I would not have any difficulty in defeating him. I went into the ring with the fullest confidence that I would be the winner."

The receipts of the fight were $27,000.

Judge Capp Dead.

Harrisburg,—Judge Thomas H. Capp, of the Dauphin county court, died at the Capp homestead at Jonestown, Lebanon county, at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, July 3rd, of bright's disease, after an illness of two months. Judge Capp was the leader of the Lebanon county bar at the time of his appointment by Governor Pennypacker as additional law judge of the Dauphin county courts in December, 1905, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Judge John H. Weiss. He was afterward unanimously nominated by the Republican party for the full term of ten years and was elected last November.

He was forty-seven years old, and served three terms in the House of Representatives from Lebanon county and was also solicitor of the county for several years. He is survived by his wife, who is a daughter of the late Senator George F. Miley, of Lebanon county, and two young daughters. Judge Capp moved to Harrisburg from Lebanon after his appointment as judge, and has lived here ever since. He was taken ill while in Philadelphia with Mrs. Capp two months ago and was recently moved to Jonestown.

His successor will be appointed by Governor Stuart to serve until the first Monday of next January.

FRANCIS MURPHY.

He was a Friend Indeed to the Boys of Fifth Regiment.

Francis Murphy, the apostle of Gospel temperance, has finished his course. He was faithful to the end. It is thirty years since the wave of temperance sentiment of which he was the author swept over this county. It was a pledge-signing campaign, inaugurated by Mr. Murphy and carried forward by his disciples here and elsewhere with the utmost enthusiasm. Thousands signed the pledge. Many kept it until the end. Some still live and are sober men today because of the gracious influence exerted upon their lives by the Murphy movement. Some fell by the way-side. That is true of every movement for the betterment of the race.

Francis Murphy had been a victim of the drink habit. He came to himself under circumstances of peculiar agony and self-reproach. He resolved to amend his life. He went for help to the Gospel of Christ and obtained it at once. Then he began to preach gospel temperance and soon had many sincere followers and some imitators. It was natural and inevitable that a movement so widely popular should be taken advantage of by adventurers and charlatans, but even they were powerless to do any permanent injury to the cause. It was based upon the eternal rock of truth and thus won its way.

Francis Murphy continued during the rest of his life a strenuous advocate of the principle of total abstinence. He declined to indulge in controversy. He had no hard words for anybody. He held that the rumseller was entitled to fair treatment and the ordinary courtesies and decencies of life. He thought one kindly word would go farther and accomplish more good than any quantity of harshness. Some persons who had never trodden the downward path were suspicious of his methods. They were loth to abandon the old sledge hammer style of procedure. But wisdom is justified of her children, and it is now conceded that the methods of Francis Murphy were the methods of the Carpenter of Nazareth.

The great temperance advocate was chaplain of the Fifth Pennsylvania regiment during a portion of the Spanish-American war. Colonel Theo. Burchfield was the commander of the regiment. The colonel and his officers, as well as the rank and file of the regiment, bore high testimony to the kindness, the industry, the loving heart, the intense patriotism of their chaplain. They saw that he lived the life he professed. He was abundant in labors, not only in that position, but also in every sphere of influence it was his privilege to occupy during his long and useful life.

We rejoice that Francis Murphy lived and labored in this world. We feel that while his body is now a vacant tenement his influence will persist until the end of time. His gentleness, his sincerity, his sympathetic spirit, his gift of patience, his unbounded enthusiasm, these he has bequeathed to the world he so faithfully served.

DOCTORS MISTAKES

Are said often to be buried six feet under ground. But many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they present alike to themselves and their easy-going or overbusy doctor, separate diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, keeps up his treatment until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better in spite of the wrong treatment, but probably worse. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native American medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the female system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

Old Farmer Jones Says.

This is the month for chicken lice, sheep ticks, cow itches, lousy calves and lazyness on the farm but a little coal oil will fix them all up but lazyness, and the only thing that will cure that is to go coon hunting, a certain young man in Bellefonte the boys called him Budd Harper, he had this trouble and came up and wanted to go for a hunt, he had with him Mid McGarvey, well said I, boys if you want to go I'll call the dogs and we will be off so I whistled for Sport and Art" that is our dogs names, and got some Pine torches and a jug of cider and my old flint lock and the dogs knew what was up as soon as they saw my old tin lantern with holes punched in the sides to let the light out, of course it is a little out of style but serves the purpose; we went down by the Spring House and eat some sour pickles not the kind you buy in the stores put up in amonia and turpentine and started, Budd took the small dog and Mid led sport we went up along Muncy mountain to Eckley's Gap thence to Cambridge Farm, the Moran Farm, Anthony Wise's place (and when we passed there he thought we were chicken thieves) Julian, Beaver Mills, Gillentown, Beech Creek, Mill Hall, Rosecrans, Coganton and then the boys said we'd better take some lunch and we left the dogs loose they started right up the mountain together, now said I be the ginger when you hear that dog Art bark you may know he has the coon up the tree, that Sport dog is to lazy to bark so the boys eat the lunch and I drank the cider, said I Budd why did'ent you bring Russell Blair along this trip would done him good, but Budd said there was a new girl coming to town and he would have to look after her. Billy Esenwine came along he was getting home from Boonville seeing his girl, and told us up near Tylersville there was some coons. Just then one dog come back to let us know the other dog had a coon up the tree well sir we got up but the tree was small and and mid was afraid to climb the tree so Budd said he would climb the tree but we should be sure and not take him take him for the coon I said get your spurrs on, and by the time he got ready, the coon was down the other side of the tree. and away it went we followed that coon back the way we come and Just west of Julian that coon run into one of Joe Gills Ground Hog Holes. well said I lets go up toward Port Matilda we can surely scare up another then we met a man named Flick who began to tell his Experience hunting he got everything backwards the boys could hardly make out what he meant finally the old man said in his Killing Deer Experience that right over there on the hill he shot a big Buck and ten pounds of Bullets run out the tallow hole - he meant to infer that the Buck was so fat that ten pounds of tallow run out the Bullet hole. but the boys were getting a little tired and we moved on toward Port across toward Stormstown then the dogs run a coon up a tree and we all laid down to wait for day light but when morning come it was only a chip monk. I said boys eat some Breakfast and I'll hitch up and take you to town. as I wanted to send a letter to the P. M. General to find out how much he got for advertising western Flour on his postal clerks and if he did not think it was alittle bit against us farmers.

Now evry body you meet has a teddy Bear in their arms but Harold Gardner says when

Gen. Knox is Elected evry body will be running around with A "Knox roast" in their arms well I must be getting home to help Sarah, as our girl left last night, to be married. she met a young fellow down at Hecla Park two weeks ago. last week they were engaged and next week they expect to be keeping House. I notice the papers are making a big fuss about girls kissing they are afraid the men will get microbes. do you know that is what makes kisses sweet the same as them little worms in vinegar that is what makes it sour. but do you know I saw the same kind of microbes on three different fellows. now the question is did they get them all from the same place and I know Dutch Brouse likes these microbes.

Sulley stoner had his pictures taken he said but I told him no he only had his Quarter taken.

That the next time them three girls in front of the Gazette office stope my boy when he is selling lettuce and pretends to buy some when they don't want any, well I'll just take them across my knee and apply the slipper good and hard some of them ere town people have a fashion of yelling at us farmers and to wait a minute they want to see us and then keep us waiting for a half hour and don't want anything unless it is to ask about how the prospect will be for hunting this fall, now it was just this morning when I was driving across the diamond when Davy Stewart yelled Jones I want to see you a minute then talked away for an hour and ten minutes to the other fellow, I said well Davy then he come over and wanted to know if I had a three cornered monkey wrench I told him yes, I had one but it fell into a pot of white lamp black and I could not get it out but I had a few young skunks I would let him have some of them, oh no said Davy every time I play checkers at the Y. M C. A. I get one, and that will do, then Davy and the boys started home.

Well sir a lot of folks come up to my place and told Sarah they wanted to have a surprise party for me but I over heard the remerk and said not just now we would wait until after harvest, well that night Sarah cried hereself sick and blubbered and sighed and fretted but I would not ask her what the trouble was, I supposed she was mad because she could not have a party? but I finally said Sarah do you have hives? No, no. Well I said what is the matter then, why said she you known when them ladies was here for dinner? yes said I but we cannot have a party once a week. I know Jones said she but you know when them ladies was here for dinner I forgot to put the "Essence in the Coffee" and that is what was the matter with Sarah? Just then I looked out of the window and saw Burney McClain and Sheriff Shearer having a ten round match but I do not know which got the worst of it but think "both" so far as I can learn, then Francis Thomas ask me how they nailed them white letters on Olewine's window without breaking the glass?

Hints for Vacation.

Be discreet as to your companions and your hours. Never loiter until an unseemly hour on the beach or in dark corners on the porch. You may think such conduct is an indication of your popularity, but in reality it will cause you to be shunned by the nice girls and boys later on.

If subscription picnics, sails or euchres are given, either subscribe your dues or ask your chaperon to subscribe for you. Guests must do these things to be really in the swing at a summer resort. If a fair or bazaar is given for charity, try to think up some original article to make and sell, or something new in the way of a booth. Originality and a willingness to help make the time fly at a summer resort and are always at a premium. If the "big boys" do not flock around you at first, do not hold aloof and sulk. Make your self agreeable to some of the older folks, and the admiration of middle-aged men or even older can float you to the belleship with their sons and younger brothers.

Keep your hotel room in good order. Do not toss your clothes about or strew your bed and bureau with trophies of wood or beach. You would be surprised to learn how chambermaids carry tales and gossip about your personal habits.

If you have much money with you or any valuable articles of jewelry, keep them in the office safe. Or, if you prefer, wear around your wrist a belt from which hangs a chamois bag to hold money, brooches, rings, etc. Never leave in your room or even in a locked trunk.

College Prof. Resigns Positions.

Prof. Fred E. Foss, who for the the last 14 years has been head of the Civil Engineering department of the Pennsylvania State college and who has been on a leave of absence the last year in the South, has been called to a professorship in the department of civil engineering practice in the school of applied science, Carnegie Tech Schools.

Another resignation that many regret is that of Prof. I. Thorton Osmond, dean of the School of Mathematics and Physics. It is reported that Prof. Osmond will retire from teaching. Dr. J. Frank Meyer, of Penn Hall, will succeeed Prof. Osmond. He is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall college, class of '94. He also took a course in physics at the Johns Hopkins university, and for the last five years has been connected with the University of Pennsylvania.

No Riding on Engines.

Orders were issued Tuesday calling the attention of trainmen of the Pennsylvania Railroad to the general notice issued on June 3. The notice issued on this date reads as follows: "The practice of trainmen permitting persons to ride on the engines, cabin or trains must be stopped. No persons, whether employed or not will be allowed to ride without an order or a pass." The order issued Tuesday states that the trainmen should interest themselves in seeing that unauthorized persons do not ride on their trains.

INSTALATION OF OFEICERS.

Knights of Eagles do the Elegant Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday evening the newly elected officers of the Knights of Golden Eagles were installed into their different offices.

The Eagles have one of the prettiest lodge rooms in the state. Lately they have had the place all done over and now they have a regular royal place to meet in. The old paper was torn off and now the walls of the interior have the appearance of the new State Capitol only just a little bit prettier. The new body brussels carpet that Joseph Bros. laid, is one of the most handsome patterns we ever saw, and when you step on it you feel as though you were treading on air. The furniture has all been revarnished and stained, and now the Bellefonte boys have a hall that they can feel proud of.

After the instalation neat little speeches were made by the new officials afterwhich delightful refreshments such as cocoanut, chocolate, nut and fruit cake, ice cream and lemonade were passed around, of course the boys didn't enjoy anything like that, at any rate every thing disappeared.

The new officers installed were the following gentlemen:

Past Chief	William Emel.
Noble Chief	Bernard Stover.
Vice Chief	Jessie Derstine.
High Priest	David Barett Jr.
Venerable Hermit	C. D. Young.
Trustee	Thomas Hazel.

Gobblers Hatching Eggs

Berks county turkey gobblers are playing strange antics these warm days. A twenty-five pound fellow, on the farm of Jacob Schneck, of Pleasant Valley, has been hatching on a hen's nest of twenty-three eggs for the last two weeks, and so dutiful is he that he will not even leave the nest for his food. On the farm of Mrs. John Stoudt, a similar feat is performed by a gobbler, the only difference being that the eggs are turkey eggs and the number is twenty-two It is feared that this gobbler will be a poor foster mother, as he shows signs of aggravation.

The Stepmother

Take everything else that permits of variety, there are in the relm of stepmotherhood stepmothers and stepmothers. Stepmothers good, bad and indifferent. Likewise there are fathers and mothers who may be placed in the same category. We do not judge the great majority of honerable fathers and sweet mothers by the few who are fathers and mothers in the physical fact only. So with the stepmothers. There have been bad stepmothers, but a great many of them are an honor to civilization and a real savior to unfortunate boys and girls who need a genuine mothering. Stepmothers have more to contend with than most people realize. They are always compared with the first wife, and are always accused of spending all that the first wife saved: Usually the children she comes to mother have been poisoned in their thoughts relative to her by some disgruntled old maid sister, crank aunt, fool uncle or some unwise friend. With all this to contend with she must begin her work. The fact is, American women, whether mothers, stepmothers, aunts, nuclee, sisters, or even bachelor girls, are the sweetest and best of of their sex on the face of the globe.

All honor today to the mothers and stepmothers who have taken unruly boys and girls in hand and made of them honerable men and women. This is true. There never was a character for good in the world but back of that character there was a good woman—a good mother or a good stepmother.

Don't Destroy Bird's Nests.

The attention of the police of Bellefonte has been called to the fact that a number of boys in Bellefonte are in the habit of climbing trees and despoiling bird's nests; in fact throwing either or both to the ground, killing the latter and tearing down the nest. One boy, especially, who seems to take a strange delight in this kind of nefarious work, is known and the authorities are watching him. It is a fact that he, as well as other boys, may not know that there is a law against the destruction of bird's nests, and the penalty is ten dollars fine or fifteen days in jail for each and every nest destroyed. And the next boy that is caught destroying nests will be promptly arrested and either have to pay his fine or spend two weeks in jail.

Bellefonte Visited by Fire.

Three fires in succession visited Bellefonte the past week. First the Ardell Lumber Co's dry house, second the large exchange stable of Musser and Larimer, and third the house on Spring street, occupied by William Katz. The first two didn't amount to very much but the third did a good bit of damage. The fire is supposed to have originated from a defective flue, which spread rapidly all over the roof.

No one being around the electric light station Mr. Katz could not send in an alarm and after the fire had made good headway, Art Thomas crawled to the top of the electric light building and sounded the alarm. The flames were quickly extinguished after the fire company arrived on the scene. Mr. Katz's loss will amount to eight or nine hundred dollars, while the loss on the house will amount to considerable more.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of a weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion.

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D.' of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it: "In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose.* * * It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs.'

—Upholstering and furniture neatly repaired and mattresses renovated by H M. Bidwell, on Allegheny street, all orders attended too promptly.

BUY CURWENSVILLE PLANT

The Bickfords, of This City, Give Up DuBois Project.

The Clearfield Spirit of last evening says:

It is announced in business circles that the Curwensville Fire Brick plant which has been idle for a month or two owing to financial difficulties has been purchased by the Bickford people, of Lock Haven and Bellefonte. The Bickfords, it will be remembered, and the people who contemplated locating and building a new fire brick plant in the John E. DuBois meadow at DuBois, and failing in this location, partially decided on Falls Creek as a suitable location. Later the Curwensville Fire Brick plant went into the hands of a receiver and negotiations were then begun for this splendid plant, which last Saturday culminated in the Bickfords taking it over. The Bickfords own a large acrerage of fire clays of all kinds near the DuBois water dam in Union townships, on the banks of Anderson creek and this clay will be hauled to the works and used there. This is the brick works that J. C. Meyer Esq. and John C. Rowe of Bellefonte are interested in.

Heaton—Bryan.

On Wednesday evening about 9 o'clock Miss Virginia Bryan became the wife of Fred Heaton of Milesburg. The wedding ceremony was preformed by Rev. Piper of the Methodist church at his mance. The young people are well and favorably known and have many friends who wish them joy and peace through life.

Life.

The poet's exclamation: "O Life! I feel thee bounding in my veins," is a joyous one. Persons that can rarely or never make it, in honesty to themselves, are among the most unfortunate. They do not live, but exist, for to live implies more than to be. To live is to be well and strong—to arise feeling equal to the ordinary duties of the day, and to retire not overcome by them—to feel life bounding in the veins. A medicine that has made thousands of people, men and women, well and strong, has accomplished a great work, bestowing the richest blessings, and that medicine is Hood's Sarsaparilla. The weak, run-down, or debilitated, from any cause, should not fail to take it. It builds up the whole system, changes existence into life, and makes life more abounding. We are glad to say these words in its favor to the readers of our columns.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

Wedding at the Gap.

On Tuesday evening July 2nd. about 8:30 Miss Jennie Rice of Pleasant Gap became the wife of Lewis Miller, of Bellefonte. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Durkee, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal at his mance on Nittany street. After the words were said that made this happy couple man and wife, they drove to the brides home where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served. The bride received a great many beautiful and useful presents. They will spend their honeymoon in Mifflin County after which they will return to Bellefonte, and make this their future home. Mr. Miller is employed at the Nittany Furnace. Both young people have hosts of friends who join in with this paper in wishing the young folks joy and happiness through life and may a shadow never cross their path.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Don't make any mistake, but remember the name Swamp Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and the address, Binghampton, N. Y. on every bottle.

IN A NEW CLASS.

Maggie's Raise In Wages Brought Unexpected Results.

Mrs. Baker, a well to do lady in one of the suburbs of a large eastern city, was fortunate in having an excellent servant. Maggie was capable, quick and good natured. Most of the lady's friends were less fortunate—in fact, few of them were without their distinct trials. At all the fashionable gatherings the conversation turned, like a needle to the pole, straight to the subject of servants.

Mrs. Baker said very little, for she had often noticed that an announcement of perfect satisfaction in the domestic line was frequently followed later on by a second announcement to the effect that the perfect maid had been offered higher wages by Mrs. So-and-so and had gone to get them. Therefore Mrs. Baker followed Br'er Rabbit's tactics of "layin' low."

More than this, she decided to be very diplomatic. She would offer Maggie more wages herself and thus secure her before any one else had a chance. She was pleased with her plan.

"Now, Maggie," she said the next morning, "you've been very faithful and cheerful during this hot summer and through Dorothy's illness, and I like your work so well that I'm going to raise your wages from $5 to $6."

Maggie thanked her, and Mrs. Baker smiled at the thought of her own astuteness.

On Monday morning, a few days later, she had occasion to visit her kitchen after breakfast. Instead of encountering the usual smell of suds and steam, she found Maggie seated at the table.

"Why, where's the washing?" she asked. "What's the matter? Are you ill?"

"Oh, no, mum," replied Maggie airily, "I ain't sick. But none of the girls as gets $6 does any washing. The six dollar girls has it done fer 'um, you know."

Mrs. Baker has not tried any more diplomatic plans.—Youth's Companion.

HUMOR OF LONDON CABBIES.

Some of Their Remarks When the Tip Is Not Forthcoming.

Some of the hansom fraternity of London have no sense of humor, but the majority are decidedly facetious, says London Tit-Bits. Here are some examples of witty and sarcastic "cabbyisms."

To appreciate them properly it must be understood that the fare has offered a single shilling in payment for a ride just within the two mile limit.

"Are you quite sure you can spare this?" remarks the cabby with a bump of humor. "D'ye think you'll be able to rub along on the other nineteen till next Friday? It's goin' the pace, y'know."

"If you'll take my tip, guv'nor," runs another form of gentle reproach, "you'll go and see an oculist. You 'ailed this bus by mistake. You wants a red or green or yellow bus. Black ain't in your line at all."

"Thank yer, guv'nor," says another cabby, with apparent emotion; "thank yer, kindly. Yer offer is well meant, but I couldn't go for to do it." Saying which he makes a pretense of handing the shilling back to the astonished fare. "But I can't sell him, guv'nor, and that's a fact. Yer 'andsome hoffer'd make me rich for life, but I tell yer I can't sell 'im."

One cabby, who was an excellent actor, on receiving his shilling burst into tears and between his loud sobs jerked out: "I'm sorry you force it on me, guv'nor, I am really. The hincome tax people'll be down on me now."

An excellent "cabbyism" was perpetrated in the suburbs one night. As the fare let himself into the house he was regaled somewhat as follows: "Go in quietly, sir, in case the old woman wakes up and 'ears me drivin' away. She might stop the rest of yer pocket money for this extravagance."

The Phantom Fire Ship.

The traditional "fire ship" of the Chaleur bay, New Brunswick, appearing usually before a storm, has a basis of fact, according to a scientist. It is a hemispherical light, with the flat side toward the water, glowing sometimes without much change of form, but at other times rising into slender, moving columns, in which an excited imagination might recognize the flaming rigging of a ship. The general explanation offered is that this object is a manifestation of St. Elmo's fire, an electrical phenomenon, but the reason for its appearing only on or near the Chaleur bay is not known.

Children In Pliny's Day.

It was not a modern American writer who, discussing the children, wrote of them thus: "How many are there who will give place to a man out of respect to his age and dignity? They are shrewd men already and know everything. They are in awe of nobody, but take themselves for their own example." These were the words of Pliny the younger used in one of his famous letters during the first Christian century, but they will strongly apply to much of the young America of today.

A Curious Superstition.

Among the superstitions of the Seneca Indians was this most beautiful one: When a young maiden died they imprisoned a young bird until it first began to try its powers of song, and then, loading it with caresses and messages, they loosed its bonds over her grave in the belief that it would not fold its wings nor close its eyes until it had flown to the spirit land and delivered its precious burden of affection to the loved and lost one.

Coming to His Title.

Titles have rarely been conferred upon native Americans by European sovereigns, but several have succeeded to titles by inheritance. One of these was Sir John Davie, the first town clerk of Groton, Conn., who was graduated at Harvard in 1681. The story of his reception of the news of his succession to a baronetcy is told in the pages of "In Old Connecticut."

One day Davie was hoeing corn on the plains in company with John Packer, a neighbor, both men in homespun and barefooted, with their sleeves rolled up to their elbows and their trousers up to their knees, when a stranger clad in the latest London fashion appeared and asked the official if he were John Davie.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Then I salute you, Sir John Davie of Creedy Park, Devon," said the visitor.

Tradition says that the new baronet finished his row—he was hoeing on a wager with his fellow worker—then he accompanied his visitor to the brown homestead, treated him to cake and wine and learned the whole story—how his uncle, Sir John Davie, Bart., had died without male issue, leaving his nephew sole heir.

In a short time the Poquonock farmer exchanged the brown farmhouse for an English estate. He never forgot his native land, however, and always retained his interest in Groton. He aided the settlers to build their new church and when it was finished presented it with a silver communion set. He also made gifts to his relatives and was one of the early benefactors of Yale college.

Hunting In Bygone Days.

What long apprenticeship the would be huntsmen had to serve in bygone days! Gaston de Foix considered a beginning should be made when the child had reached the age of seven, when it should be placed in the kennels. King Charles says that to become a perfect huntsman the young gentlihomme who is intended for the post of veneur should be taken at the age of twelve. He must be healthy and well built: he must have good sense and especially a quick and prompt judgment. One of the principal things required is that he should be painstaking. Alas, 150 years later we have D'Yauville telling us that a man needs two years' tuition to qualify as a huntsman! It was not only the paid gentlemen of the hunting establishments, however, who became real connoisseurs, for their royal masters took such personal interest in everything connected with the chase that most of them knew all their hounds by name and on the eve of a day's hunting would name each hound that was to be taken out. They also prided themselves on being able to faire le bois themselves—that is, go out with their lymers in the morning and quest for and harbor the stag.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Wise Old Mule.

Our old mule would not work after 12 o'clock. We would be compelled to unhitch, go to the barn and let the mule eat as long as he was able to swallow; that would be about two hours. Then the mule would be ready for work. It mattered not how late in the day when the mule was taken out in the field, or how cloudy it might be. The wind might blow so strong that the sounds of the bells and the whistles could not be heard, or the work would be in some out of the way place where no one could be seen going to dinner. Yet when 12 o'clock came, to the minute, he would refuse to work any longer. We have taken feed and let him eat before noon, but this did not satisfy him; he must go to the barn at noon or kick everything to pieces. We tried the mule in a coal mine, but with the same result. He seemed to tell the time in the mine equally as well as out of it.—Chicago Tribune.

Laughed at their Betters.

On Saturday when the morning train arrived in Bellefonte from the Bald Eagle Valley, a woman with three grown girls and a baby got off the train. It was raining quite hard and from the looks of things they did not have any too much money as three umbrellas had to cover the five. One real tall girl dressed in white had a sun shade that had seen better days, as it had turned quite gray, and when she put it up, it did look rather funny, but it was better than none at all, and we'll wager it was paid for. The usual gang of loafers had assembled around the station, and when the girl displayed her umbrella one of the gang of fellows laughed out loud and one fellow made some very insulting remarks that no doubt greatly embarrased the young lady. It has not been so long ago, that we saw the same fellow go around over our street with the seat of his pants in shreads and no one made fun of him. It is not good policy to laugh at a person because they are poor and don't have as good clothes as you have, for nine chances out of ten the fellow who laughs owes more in the town than the poor fellow.

Knocked Down by a Live Wire.

On Monday evening our town was visited by one of the hardest rains and electric storms within the recollection of the oldest citizens, for almost an hour the rain poured down in sheets and the incessant roll of thunder and the forked lightning had an alarming effect upon all. No serious damage was done in the town except some trees and electric wires blown down.

Over on Thomas street near the large barn a live electric wire fell across the road and might have caused very serious damage. Mr. Gettig's men were driving from the slaughter house where they had butchered several large steers and when the horses crossed this wire one horse struck it with his foot and was knocked flat on its back, he tried to get up and was thrown the second time. Some children had been playing around the wire and as luck had it, they never touched it. The Supt. of the Electric Light works was on the scene before the horse was struck and went back to the works after another man. The injury to Mr. Gettig's horse was slight, the flesh is burned on the two hind legs and the breast is rather stiff, outside of that the animal is feeling good

The use of pills, salts, castor-oil and strong cathartic medicines is the violent method. The use of the herb tonic laxative,

DR. HARVEY K. HOY.

Kills Himself by Swallowing Carbolic Acid and Laudanum.

Dr. Harvey K. Hoy, one of Altoona's most prominent physicians of the homeopathic schools, committed suicide about 7:15 Friday morning by taking a mixture of carbolic acid and laudanum in his office at his home, at 1425 Twelfth avenue. His lifeless body was found about a half hour afterwards by Dr. A. O. Taylor, who had been summoned by Mrs. Hoy when she suspected that some thing was wrong.

Worry over financial troubles probably temporarily dethrowned Dr Hoy's reason and led him to take his own life. It was apparent to his family the past three or four weeks that he was greatly worried although he talked but little of his troubles. He slept but little during that time and he put in a very restless night Thursday night. He arose shortly before seven Friday morning and as an evidence that his mind was affected he wanted to go down stairs without dressing. However, he responded to Mrs. Hoy's request that he dress himself and then he went to the kitchen and drew some water.

As there was nothing apparently unusual in his actions, Mrs. Hoy did not get up at once. About 7:30 she arose and went down stairs. Not seeing him in the living apartments of their residence she went to the office, which is the front room of the house and found the door locked. Going to the front window and peering in she saw her husband lying on the couch. From his attitude she suspected that something was wrong and she summoned Dr. Taylor who lives a few doors below. Dr. Taylor saw at once when he saw his brother physician lying on the conch that something had occurred and he secured an axe and forced open the door. He found Dr. Hoy dead. It was then about 7:45 and he had evidently been dead about half an hour.

Dr. Hoy had used a mixture of carbolic acid and laudanum to end his life. Bottles which had contained the two deadly drugs were standing on the medicine case with a glass by their side. The physician had evidently poured some of the laudanum into the glass first, then some of the acid and more of the laudanum on top with a view of preventing the carbolic acid from burning his mouth. His mouth was, however, terribly burned. After taking the mixture he lay down on the couch on his back. His handkerchief with which he had wiped his mouth was held in his hand. Death doubtless came without a struggle in a very few minutes after he had swallowed the deadly poison.

Coroner W. T. Blackburn was notified of the physician's death and the body was prepared for burial by Undertakers Hickey & O'Neill. It is improbable that the coroner will hold an inquest as it was apparent at once that it was a case of suicide. Dr. Hoy had told his friends little of his financial difficulties, but it is known that he lost considerably in several recent ventures. He was interested in oil in California where his brother is located and with whom he was associated in business and he had also spent considerable money backing up John Ellmore, whose recent invention of a process of burning ashes created so much of a sensation throughout the country. The failure of this enterprise to bring the quick results anticipated doubtless had its effect upon him However, he never at any time hinted at the idea of self-destruction.

Dr. Hoy was born near Bellefonte in July 1849. He received his education in the public schools at Bellefonte and later he attended the Millersville State Normal School from which institution he graduated. He then entered the Hahnemann Medical College from which institution he graduated as a homeopathic physician. After he graduated he located in Bellefonte where he successfully practiced his professions until 12 years ago, when he moved to Altoona and he had been a resident of this city ever since. He was regarded as a good physician and had a large practice formerly. Recently he devoted much of his time to the various business enterprises in which he was interested.

Dr. Hoy was twice married. His first wife was Catherine Barnhart, surviving this union, one daughter, Mrs. H. D. Clark, of Clarksburg, W. Va. His second wife survives, also one brother, Dr. F. P. Hoy of California and three sisters Justia and Ida Hoy of Altoona, and Mrs. Gibbs, wife of Rev. Gibbs, of Irvona. He was a member of the Improved Order of Heptasophs, the Artisans and the Raue Medical Club. He was also a member of the State Homeopathic Medical Society and the Millersville Society.

On Monday afternoon the remains of the late Dr. Harvey K. Hoy who committed Suicide in Altoona last Friday morning by taking a combination of carbolic acid and laudnum was brought to Bellefonte on the 1:23 train. The interment took place from the depot. At the grave the casket was opened and his relatives and friends in Bellefonte gazed upon his face for the last time. The body rested in a handsome black casket. The floral tribute was large and showed the respect and esteem in which the deceased was held. Quite a number of doctors from Altoona accompanied the body to Bellefonte among which were the following gentlemen:

Dr. E. H. Morrow, Dr. Amos A. Taylor, Dr. W. J. Sharbaugh, Dr. J. W. Stitzel, Dr. I. D. Metzger, Dr. R. L. Pifer, Dr. Daniel Bohn, Dr. B. F. Books, and Dr. D. N. Roudabush, all of them associates and fellow members of the "Raue Medical Club" of which Dr. Hoy was President.

The services at the grave were in charge of Rev. Bowlby D. D. pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Altoona assisted by Rev. Briggs of Altoona,

We as a committee of The Raue Medical Club respectfully present the following Resolutions.

WHEREAS, Providence has removed our President and brother practitioner Dr. H. K. Hoy from our midst, we humbly bow to his will.

We also extend our heartfelt sympathy in this time of sorrow, to his wife, daughter and sisters.

The society and profession sustain an irreparable loss in the death of our brother.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be given to the bereaved family and published in the daily papers.

Com. { Dr. E. H. Morrow.
Dr. J. W. Stitzel.
Dr. Amos O. Taylor.

The Coming of Ruth.

The beautiful drama now in course of preparation at the Y. M. C. A. will be presented two evenings, one in the Opera House and one in Petrikin Hall. Both stages are well suited to the successful production of the cantata, the Opera House stage being, perhaps the more elaborate than the other. This difference will not, however be greatly noticeable as "The Coming of Ruth" does not require the help of stage settings and accessories to make it effective and beautiful. Like a gorgeous flower or a lovely face, extravagent adornments adds but little to it.

The cast of principal singers is as follows: Elimelech of Bethleham, John Bullock; Mahlon and Chilion, sons of Elimelech, A. C. Harper, W. F. Dunning; Borak, a prophet, Clarence Garbrick; Naomi, wife of Elimelech, Mrs. A. C. Farish; Ruth and Orpah, maidens of Moab, Miss Sallie Fitzgerald, Miss Mary Brown; Leah, a Moabitish Princess, Miss Margaret McFarland; Deborah, a prophetess, Miss Lillian Walker; Tamar, a Seer of Evil, Miss Helen Bible; Miriam, child of Naomi, (supposed to have been dead) Miss DeSales Walsh.

Those who have seen recent rehearsals believe the director has been peculiarly fortunate in finding persons appropriate to these various parts especially as each is required to develope a distinct humanistic personality. It is a strong caste. Tickets will be put on sale early next week.

Resigned His Position

Newton Dunlap who has been driving for John Olewine the past eight years resigned his position on Saturday and has accepted one with the York, Bridge Co., Newton has been a faithful employee and his work has always given the best of satisfaction. Mr. Olewine don't like to lose him as he was a good horseman and knew where every body lived. But the young man thinks he can better him self and his employer was glad to have him try it. He is a great large fellow and should make a success at the work he is going to. And we hope that he will meet with success and that he will like the work and make lots of money, we can certainly recommend him as an honest, willing and industrious young man. If he don't like the work we will welcome him back to the old town again. He has a great many friends here, and he has the hearty good wishes of all of them.

Going To The Hospital.

On Sunday George Symmonds came down from Altoona and spent the day with his mother Mrs. Katharine Symmonds who is totally blind. He took her along back to Altoona with him and on Wednesday he will take her to the Wills Eye Hospital in Philadelphia and have the doctors operate on her. The physician in Bellefonte says that after the operation he is quite sure the lady will be able to see again. We sincerely hope that the doctor is correct and that she may be able to see for years to come.

Sons of Veterans to be Organized.

A Sons of Veterans will be organized in Bellefonte in a few days. It is the desire of those in charge to have a full attendance of young men in Bellefonte whose fathers were old soldiers. This is to be an out and out Sons of Veterans organization and no one need to apply for admittance unless they really are a son. This thing of boasting on what your cousins did and did not do, won't go. These are to be sons of the men who sacrificed their lives for this country during the days of the civil war.

GREAT GAME OF BALL

The Indians Acted The Baby And Got Discouraged.

On Wednesday after we had made the announcement that the Bellefonte boys had thrown up the Indian game and had canceled the engagement, another crowd of fellows took the matter up and called the team here. They worked earnestly to get a large crowd to attend. They secured four good players to come here and assist in the game, and the outlook for winning was certainly favorable.

The Indians arrived in town on the 9.23 train from Tyrone in a regular passenger coach painted black, they had advertized a $10.000 Pullman car, but it looked more like a cattle car. Eight of the aggregation were full blooded Indians. From the very start after they arrived in Bellefonte they didn't seem to want to play here, and when they paraded to the grounds, about two hundred persons had already gotten there. The manager went to some of the people and asked them to pay, he says they gave him the "horse laugh' and moved back on the road. He met others coming out and wanted to sell them tickets, but they turned him down. This made him angry and he called his men in off the field and brought them to Bellefonte. This happened at twenty minutes after two and it was announced on the Diamond by one of their men that the game would begin promptly at 3:30. The fellow didn't even give the people a chance to get out and show him that they would help him out. He would have cleared $75 00 to $100.00 without any trouble and that would have been a great deal better than not playing at all. It gives them a black eye, it gave Bellefonte a black eye.

If these fellows wanted to get in the game without paying why didn't they wait until later, and not go out there and skin their way in before the people got there that meant to pay. But Bellefonte is the hardest place in the state to collect money at a base ball game, unless you have a great high fence up and keep them out. About $6.50 was collected around, from some of the business men in order to pay the players brought here, and the boys wish to thank these parties for their kindness. The two Green boys from Duquesne who are visiting friends in Millsburg were brought from the Howard team to play here and Pearl Thomas who caught on the State Scrubs last year was brought up from Nippino Park, and shortly before the boys were ready to start to the base ball field a young man who we might call "The good Samaritan" came along and said he would pitch for us. Well, Green was scheduled to pitch, but as he had worked hard at the Hecla game the day before, the boys decided to put the new man in. And say, he was right there with the goods. My be would of handed those Indians lemons. His name was John B. Fay a young traveling man who heard the game was on and wanted to get in practice. Fay played with the Georgetown University and with the Buffalo league team. At both places he pitched, he is a graduate of the Georgetown University and lives in the city of Washington. The boys had a little game on the field after the Indians left and Fay certainly did make a fine showing. So the Indian game was kind of a water haul.

Great Airdome Theatre Burned.

A telephone message from Johnsonburg to The Democrat is to the effect that Chamberlain Bro's Great American Airdome theater outfit was burned at Johnsonburg on Wednesday night.

Some individual threw a lighted cigarette into some combustible material which ignited the canvass and caused the conflagation.

It was Mr. Chamberlain's intention to spend the coming week in Bellefonte and had sent his advertising matter forward already to this town. The loss will be keenly felt by Mr. Chamberlain and it is not known here yet what their future movements will be. The show started in Lock Haven about a month ago by giving a week's exhibition.—Lock Haven Democrat.

Class Graduated.

Last week six young ladies and gentlemen graduated from Mr. Gainsford's short hand class. The young folks most all have splendid positions waiting on them, some already fill responsible positions in and around Bellefonte. Those who finished the course successfully are Linn Blackford, Ann Harris, Frank Steel, Winifred Gates, Pearl Knisely and Nettie Bair.

Unclaimed Letters.

The following letters remain in the Bellefonte P. O. uncalled for July 8 th 1907.

Miss Allier, A. B. Benson, Mrs. N. P. Eigelburrer and Miss Olive Marshall.

When called for please say advertised.

State Fish Output to be Billion a Year.

When the work planned by state Fish Commissioner Meehan at the state hatcheries for this summer is completed, they will be better equipped for immense outputs of fish than any other state hatcheries, and will only be exceeded by those of the United States government.

Mr. Meehan has apportioned the specific appropriations granted by new hatcheries into shape, so as to give all a share,

He started Monday on a tour of the hatcheries to outline the work, and will be gone until the meeting of the American Fisheries society, at Erie on July 23.

He expects to have most of the work which he has mapped out completed before next winter, so that everything will be in readiness for operation the following spring, This year the output of fish was 652,000,000 to June 1, from the hatching houses and ponds now in operation. With the completion of the new buildings and ponds, the output, Mr. Meehan says, will be more than 1,000,000,000 a year. The following are the changes which will be made in the new hatcheries.

At Bellefonte hatchery twelve or, a jar hatching houses and a bass pond, which will cover over five acres.

At Spruce Creek, Huntingdon county a hatching house for brook trout, with a capacity of 3,000,000 fry, and a jar house and bass pond of four acres and seven trout ponds.

At the Wayne hatchery, the trout hatching house to be doubled in capacity and a jar battery house to be built.

At the Torresdale hatchery, two large water supply tanks.

The three jar hatching houses, when completed, will contain more than 1,100 jar each, with a capacity of four quarts and a pint of eggs, and will be so constructed that when need arises, 500 more jars can be put in each house.

At Union City a bass pond of over five acres will be started.

A new bass pond is also to be started at the Wayne hatchery, covering four acres, and five or six trout ponds will be built. A large sunfish pond is to be built at the Torresdale hatchery and a number of fry ponds are to be constructed at Crawford, Spruce Creek, Wayne and Torresdale. Owing to the size of bass ponds, these can hardly be ready for use before the spring of 1909.

Young Lady Winning Prizes.

The North American has been giving valuable prizes to young folks all over the country and one of our Bellefonte girls has won four already.

She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs John Hull on Bishop St. She has solved successfully four of the "Polly Evans Prize Pozzles" and in return she has received A History of Russia, A pair of Roller Skates, A large box of Fire Works, and a dandy Camera. Anna is going to keep at the business and will soon enter the higher class puzzles.

A Case of

STOMACH CATARRH.

Miss Mary O'Brien, 306 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"Peruna cured me in five weeks of catarrh of the stomach, after suffering for four years and doctoring without effect. In common with other grateful ones who have been benefited by your discovery, I say, All hail to Peruna."

Mr. H. J. Henneman, Oakland, Neb., writes:

"I waited before writing to you about my sickness, catarrh of the stomach, which I had over a year ago.

"There were people who told me it would not stay cured, but I am sure that I am cured, for I do not feel any more ill effects, have a good appetite and am getting fat.

"So I am, and will say to all, I am cured for good.

"I thank you for your kindness.

"Peruna will be our house medicine hereafter."

Catarrh of the stomach is also known in common parlance as dyspepsia, gastritis and indigestion. No medicine will be of any permanent benefit except it removes the catarrhal condition.

Nervous Debility.

Miss Irene Smith, 10 Minnesota Ave., Randle Highlands, Washington, D. C., writes:

"Peruna cured me of catarrh of the head and stomach and nervous debility from which I suffered for two years."

HAS RESIGNED

Captain D M Caldwell, Quartermyster of the Fifth

Captain D. M. Caldwell, quartermaster on the Staff of Colonel Hugh S. Taylor, Fifth regiment, N. G. P., has tendered his resignation to the commander-in-chief of the National Guard and it has been excepted. Yesterday Colonel Taylor issued orders, appointing Lieutenant Richard Watson, of company F, Indiana, to the position of quartermaster to succeed Captain Caldwell. The latters conclusion to leave the regiment came as a great surprise to his fellow officers as he has been actively engaged already in preparing for the care and comfort of the Fifth, which leaves here July 19 for the annual encampment at Tipton.

Shot by his own Brother.

Roy Bowman, the 11 year old son of Mrs. Cora Bowman residing near Mann's axe works at Mill Hall, who was accidentally shot in the forehead by his 13 year old brother, Albert Bowman, with a ball grom a Flobert rifle on Saturday, died in the hospital Monday about noon.

The boys were playing with the gun not knowing that it was loaded. The younger brother was sitting on the lounge while the other brother, sitting on the other side of the room, pointed the gun at Roy and pulled the trigger. As soon as possible the boy was brought to the Lock Haven Hospital unconscious, in which condition he remained. The surgeons found that the ball had entered the forehead about the left eye and fractured both tables of the skull, on the side opposite, and had lodged somewhere in the brain, for it could not be found. A small piece of bone was removed from the wound by the surgeons, who saw that the boy could not live but a short time.

The remains were taken to Mill Hall Monday by Undertaker W. A. Keesinger and prepared for burial, after which they were taken to the home of the deceased's grandmother, Mrs. James Mackey, where funeral services will be conducted on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock and burial will be made in the Cedar Hill cemetery.

The death of this young boy under such sad circumstances is another warning against boys and in fact all persons not to play with or carelessly handle firearms or air guns, which some erroneously think are not dangerous.

Getting at the Bottom of it.

Mayor W. H. Stevenson of Lock Haven on Saturday afternoon heard the statement of witnesses on both sides in reference to the charges of conduct unbecoming an officer brought against Patrolman S. H. Myers. Don't you think?

Old Farmer Jones Says.

Now Sarah that is the last time we go to the fourth of July, first time for ten years said Sarah? I guess she was just wantin to start an argument more than admit she did not enjoy the fourth.

Just then Geo. Eckley come in, he said he was down to Bodles and thought he would stop and see how the fourth went off and wanted to know all about it, as he saw in the paper there was going to be a big time at Hecla. Well, Geo. said I to begin in the first place we had our alarm clock sett to go off at three o'clock, Sarah could not sleep laid awake all night to hear the alarm. About every hour she would say Jones don't you think it is time to get up. I said Sarah I am not the alarm clock, when it rings I'll dance but not a stingy before, I just fell into a compomose state and over slept myself twenty minutes. I jumped right out of bed and yelled fourth of July, pulled on my over halls and looked out of the window said I to Sarah I'll be henpecked if there aint Budd Hamilton young Wion and a Landis boy stealin our green apples the first thing they know they willl have the "Habes Corpus?" Sarah butted in and said, you mean colora morbus, well no matter said I hurry up breakfast and I'll feed the hogs and cattle and the preacher can feed his own horse, (you know the preacher was around distribin seed corn, he gives us enough to plant a row of corn in our field and then give the returns of that row to the mission cause now that is the reason so many fellers up here is marking out their corn field the narrow way this year) he stayed all night and he can eat later, we will have to get an early start and after Sarah shut up the young chicks and sett up the scarecrow and put on her spit curls—we started for town to take a train, we got about a half mile down the road when a man stopped us and wanted to know if we had any seed oats, I said are you the assessor, no he said then Sarah butted in and said we have some hogs, and wanted to know if he was the census taker, no he said I am buying up seed oats is all, but said I we must be gettin on; just as Sarah struck the Borough line she got hungry and we went to a rest-your-aunt to be rocoopered and there was a young feller there just half awake and eaten his breakfast, I said get us some eatins, he growled and said he did not have his yet I said no matter young man you ought to be out on the farm some place pickin stone then you would get around in the morning? Just then he stumbled over his own feet and spilled a dish of musty oyster crachers on the floor. Well I looked over the me-and-you and said give me some "candied yams and American neufchatel" and cream cheese. Sarah ordered some green apple pie and some chicken gravy with giblet's in, but that young chap he was just as short as pie crust about gettin our things, then there was a nice little girl from Milesburg come in (she was a Darling, too) for some lunch but said she would not eat, as some one spilled tomatoes on the table cloth and it hurt her appetight—I ask her if Milesburg was as big as Boston, yes she said it was bigger only Milesburg was not built up yet. So we finished our lunch and started over to the Penna. station and met a policeman at the depot, I asked him how soon the train went to Hecla he said, wroog depot, then Sarah said where is the other "cop" oh he said don't worry he will be around by the time the trains come in. We got on the right road to the Central and All Roberts said all he wanted was some sour sweet pickles and a quarter to buy a drum up in Altoona. All told me that it would not happen again as it was hard on the stomach, oh said I every fellow must sow his wild oats. Yes said All, there is fellows here in town sowed some twenty years ago and they have been cutting oats ever since, then Sarah butted in again and said Jones that is what that fellow wanted that oats for this morning? I said never mind the oats, come on to the picnic, we got to the Central station just in time to see the first train go and Sarah asked the ticket agent how soon the next train went to Hecla, he said two hours, well I'll bedurnd we will just wait, then Sarah asked him if there was no train went sooner, then he said no the next train goes 8:45 or 15 of 9 is the next train the last went at 7.05 but madam your late for that one, then Betsy Giggle stepped up and asked the same question over again then there was a lady bought a ticket and the agent gave her small change and she said she did not want so much small change the agent said give it to Jonnie Folk there he will take it, but I'll be hidebound she opened her purse and kept it.

The train was about ready to start and a young fellow threw a fire cracker under Sarah's feet and it just went off and she jumped three feet high looked down at her shoe and yelled "my soles on fire" I said let her flicker it has been a long time since it showed any signs it's a little like Vesuvius only gets in earnest once in a while. Poo Poo the engine went and we started, our oldest boy run after the train as far as the lime kilns but could not catch it. I said I'll be Joe twisted if that fellow don't get his tires punctured before he gets back I'll pull all the pea fowl feathers out of Sarah's hat then the train stopped at Zion to let on a red whiskered man about 82 in the shade.

Just after we left Zion station Sarah said look at them tallow candles falling out of that fellows pocket I said thats "Daminite" and so it was real stuff, one fellow tried to run through a looking glass Sarah said I'll never ride on the train again daminite on one end of the car a five gallon can and that hatchet faced clerk charged me twenty-five cents each way for my baby buggy why snits and knepp that's more than the baby cost—I said never mind what the baby cost, but George its getting late and we might just as well retire then next time you come over I will tell you about how we got home and what we saw up in front of the armory Saturday night at ten o'clock p. m. would just say that this lady should wear dark clothes after night then I will tell you how some splint broom of a chin whiskered ape stepped up to me just as I got off the train at the Park and said "Im sorry to take your time" oh I said I'm in no burry well said he are you Mr. Skinner? no said I, I am Bill Jones, oh said he beg pardon and when I went up through the Park I saw my watch was gone.

THE COMING ENCAMPMENT.

The Daily Routine—When the Men will go—Preparation for them.

General John A. Wiley, commanding the Second brigade, National Guard of Pennsylvania, with headquarters at Franklin, Pa., has just issued to the regiments and troops under his command which will go into camp at Tipton on July 20, the general orders relative to said tour of duty. It is noticed that the strict discipline and other features of the brigade encampments of recent years is again to be enforced this year, all of which will help to make the encampment a most successful one. In addition to the many paragraphs that General Wiley desires complied with he has prescribed the following routine daily while the brigade is in camp:

Reveille—First call	5:45	A. M.
Reveille	5:55	A. M.
Assembly	6:00	A. M
Fatigue call	6:10	A. M.
Mess	6:30	A. M.
Sick Call	7:30	A. M.
First drill call	8:20	A. M.
Assembly	8:30	A. M.
Mess	12:00	M.
Drill call	1:35	P. M.
Assembly	1:45	P. M.
Guard Mounting—First call	4:50	P. M.
Guard Mounting—Assembly	5:00	P. M.
Evening dress parade—first call	5:25	P. M.
Mess	6:30	P. M
Retreat	Sunset
Tattoo	10:00	P. M.
Taps	10:30	P. M.

During the regimental ceremonies each regiment is accompanied by its band. At the evening dress parade which occurs every evening and the ceremonies at retreat, the consolidated brigade band furnishes the music. The regimental band and bugle corps of each regiment also furnish the selections at the guard mounting ceremonies.

The camp will be formally opened on the morning of July 20, at 8 o'clock and the routine of the daily work will be as above stated. The camp which promises to prove a most popular one, will be known as Camp Colonel Homer J. Lindsay. All mail should be addressed to Tipton, Blair county, Pa., designating the company and the regiment. General Wiley also orders that no regiment or troop will arrive on the camp grounds before 6 o'clock on the morning of July 18, nor later than 10 o'clock on the evening of July 19. The advance details, whose duties are to erect the tentage and attend to several other necessities prior to the arrival of the regiments, are scheduled to arrive in Tipton on the 17th Immediately upon the arrival of the details in the town a provost guard will be established and maintained during the week of the camp. Neither officers nor enlisted men will be allowed to leave the limits of their camps without first obtaining the permission of their regimental or company commanders.

General Wiley will at this encampment probably command the Second Brigade as such an organization for the last encampment as a brigadier general, for next September he becomes major general of the division, and it is his desire that this camp be the best of his career.

How to Avoid Lightening.

As the season of violent thunderstorms is upon us, the Scranton Republican gives some timely suggestions in regard to the avoidance of the lightening as follows: "It will be well to stay away from doors and windows during thunderstorms and to avoid trees, under which it is dangerous to linger." It is also to be recommended that people should know enough to come in when it rains—especially when the rain is accompanied by lightening. To be walking along the street with a steel geared umbrella is to invite the fatal stroke. To seek shelter in a barn filled with hay is to tempt a fatality.

SUNBURY BRICK COMPANY.

Will be one of the Finest in the United States.

William W. Swengle formerly of Bellefonte but now of Paxtonville Snyder Co., was a business visitor in Bellefonte today.

Mr. Swengle represents the Sunbury Brick Co. who are building an immense plant at Paxtonville. He is the promoter of the concern and found the clays.

The company is backed up with a $100,000 capitol and the officers are the following gentlemen, Judge Savage, President; Judge Orvis, Vice President; Hon. A. W. Day, Secretary, George Shutt, Treasurer.

They claim to have some of the finest clays in the state and are putting a plant in that will be one of the largest and finest in the United States. The brick will be burnt by gas with a gas system and will be a great saving in coal and labor and will make a great improvement on the quality of brick. Everything will be automatic by the use of electricity, and the largest improved machinery will be installed thus eleminating hand labor and whereby the cost of production will be cut from $1.00 to $1.50 per thousand which in itself will mean a good dividend.

The company has practically secured an order of 30,000,000 brick to start with, to be used at the Shamokin dam dam where large works will be erected in the near future.

Mr. Swengle is no stranger to the Bellefonte people and has many friends in the old town who wish him unbounded success in his new business.

A Pretty Wedding.

A pretty wedding was at the home of W. T. Irwin in Union twp. July 4 1907 at 12 o'clock, when Miss Linnie Sensor, a grand daughter of W. T. Irwin, was united in marriage to Jacob Mitchell, oldest son of Joseph Mitchell of Union twp. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. C. Piper of Milesburg, under the shady bower fronting the house and was witnessed by a goodly number of immediated friends.

After congratulations, all were invited to a most sumptuous and delightful dinner such as the good wives of Bald Eagle valley know how to serve. No city caterer could out do this, to which all did ample justice. The bride is a most excellent young lady and well fitted to make a pleasant and happy home. The groom is an industrious young man. All enjoyed the day and wished the happy couple prosperity and a long happy life.

Ball Game.

The game of ball played on Tuesday evening at the Meadow Brook Park between the "Coleville Professionals" and, the "Millionaires" was certainly exciting from beginning to end. The "Professionals had the bumps put to them in proper shape and only by the skin of their teeth they scored against the moneyed men. The score was 7-3.

Hotel Changes Hands.

The Syracuse House at Howard run by Edward Henderson and formerly by Jake DeHaas has been leased to Charley McMurtrie of Tyrone, the transfer of the license is now before the Court at the present time. The reason for Mr. Henderson leaving the hotel business was his wife has been in very poor health the past few years, and in order that she may recuperate and get away from hotel life he has leased his business. Mr. Henderson has been successful in the business. For many years he was proprietor of a large hotel at Winbur and after the death of Mr. DeHass at Howard he took hold of the Syracuse House.

Mr. McMurtrie is one of Tyrone's prominent young business men and has always met with success in whatever he attempted to do, and we feel sure he will do well in the hotel business at Howard.

A Hair Dressing

Nearly every one likes a fine hair dressing. Something to make the hair more manageable; to keep it from being too rough, or from splitting at the ends. Something, too, that will feed the hair at the same time, a regular hair-food. Well-fed hair will be strong, and will remain where it belongs—on the head, not on the comb!

PASSED TO HER REWARD.

One of Milesbrg's Young Women Passes Away.

On Monday morning the death angel visited the Swyers' home at Milesburg and called away the spirit of Miss Georgia Swyers. The young lady has been a sufferer the past four or five years with an incurable disease, and when the Master called she was waiting to go to rest. She was a true christian and when in health she was seen often at the house of God. She was a consistant member of the Presbyterian church. The funeral occured on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment at Roland, Rev. William Laurie officiated. She leaves to mourn her death her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swyers and a brother Alexander of Milesburg.

CENTRE COUNTY GIRL.

Miss Eleanor Marshall Wins Honors at the Philadelphia School for Nurses.

There was a notable commencement held by the Philadelphia School for Nurses, No. 2219 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, recently, and one of Centre county's daughters wore the white cap and gown of the graduated trained nurse. Miss Eleanor Marshall, of State College, was the fortunate young woman, and we hear that she has done great credit to her home county in the work upon which she has been engaged. Several months ago she was chosen as the nurse suitable to be sent west to Arizona to take charge of a patient who was to be brought to an eastern sanitarium. She performed the task with success and at the same time had an enjoyable glimpse of the great West.

It is predicted by Miss Marshall's instructors and friends that she will win further laurels in this field the field made famous by Florence Nightingale and her great sister nurses, among whom our own Clara Barton has long been prominent.

Dr. B. D. Evans, the specialist who became prominent during the Thaw trial, was the chief speaker at the commencement exercises, at which the president of the schools the prominent Philadelphia manufacturer, Hugh Taylor, presided. A very large graduating class, containing nearly a hundred nurses, was launched upon the sea of success. This school is famous for its excellent training of nurses and for its extensive charitable work among the poor who are ill. It has made great strides forward during the two years of Miss Marshall's study there; a large school home was purchased about a year ago on Chestnut street, and the capacity of the work very greatly increased.

Miss Marshall is a good representative of the class of young women who receive this training; no better material exists for this important work than these modest, sensible, intelligent and earnest young women. We congratulate her upon her success and trust that she may be on the threshold of a most prosperous and useful career.

Boar Vanquished Bear.

A desperate battle between a hungry bear on one side and a sow and boar on the other, took place at the farm of Josiah Henchey, three miles north of Altoona at the foot of Wopsononock Mountain.

With a litter of pigs the old sow was rooting in a field, when Bruin ambled down the mountain side and calmy seized, killed and proceeded to dine on one of the piggies. The little fellow's squeals alarmed the mother, and she rushed to the protection of her family. Before she could reach the bear the latter had slain the second pig with a blow of its paw.

Bruin and the sow closed in, with much squealing, grunting and snarling. The sow was the aggressor, and bit out mouthful of fur, but failed to reach a vulnerable point. The bear retaliated, lacerating the sow with his claws and nipping off one of her ears.

Wallowing in a nearby mud-puddle was a boar. Rousing himself when he heard his mate's squeals for assistance he went after the bear most viciously, gouging out pieces of fur and skin, and ripping his sides open with his tusk. The bear fought back ferociously, all its savagery being aroused at the dual attack. It was a bloody, terrifying conflict.

Attracted by the unusual noises, Farmer Henchey snatched up his shotgun, went to investigate, and at the first opportunity let go both barrels. The bear received the charge in the breast, but kept on fighting. Returning to the house to reload the gun, Henchey came back to find the boar the victor, for the bear, wounded and still hungry, had made tracks back into the mountains.

Herd of Deer at Beech Creek.

When Contractor William Phipps and a crew of men were cutting down hemlock timber for bark purposes on the side of the mountain opposite Hyner recently they came upon a herd of six deer most unexpectedly. They were working on a ledge of rocks on a ridge close to the river's edge when there was a visible stir in the under bush. Then a deer came running from without the thicket closely followed by five others and all six struck off up the mountain toward Beech Creek.

Upon investigation the men found that the deer had made a sort of bed under the huge rocks and which had doubtless been a natural rendezvous for many years for those fleet-footed creatures. The location was such that they were protested from all the elements, were within easy access of food and water, and at the same time out of harms way and the unerring buletg of the huntsmen. Our informant declares that in his opinion a hunter never scaled this particular ledge of rocks and that the spot was truly a haven of rest and safety for all deer who sought shelter in these quarters.

PAPA'S STORY.

His Attempt to Tell It While Trying to Put Robert Asleep.

"Papa!"

"Well?"

"Tell me a story."

"I'll tell you just one if you will promise to go to sleep."

"My pajamas don't feel good."

"Don't think about them. I'll tell you a story, but one will be all."

Mr. Todd sat beside the bed and began:

"Once there was a little boy"—

"What's his name?"

"I forget."

"Didn't he have any name?"

"Yes, to be sure he had! Don't interrupt me, Robert."

"Then what was it?"

"Why, his name was—his name was Julius."

"Julia's a girl's name."

"This boy's name was Julius, not Julia. He was named for Julius Caesar."

"I know something about Julius Caesar," Robert exclaimed, sitting up suddenly and quoting:

"Julius Caesar
Was a wise old geezer,
But he froze off his feet
In a ice cream freezer."

"Where did you ever hear such a thing as that?"

"Alfred Potts told it to me."

"Well, don't you ever let me hear you use that word 'geezer' again. Now go to sleep."

"But you didn't tell me the story."

"All right. This isn't about Julius Caesar at all. Julius Caesar was a king, and he died a long time ago."

"When he froze his feet off, papa?"

"He didn't freeze his feet. That is a piece of silliness Alfred Potts told you."

"What is a piece of silliness, papa?"

"Don't ask me such foolish questions. Settle down and go to sleep or I'll go back downstairs and leave you alone."

"Papa, my pajamas don't feel good."

"I told you not to think about them. Now, listen and I'll tell you about this little boy. He went out one day and saw"—

"Was his name Julius?"

"Yes, yes!" Mr. Todd answered. "His name was Julius, and he"—

"Did he die a long time ago?"

"No. Julius Caesar died a long time ago. This boy didn't."

"Where does he live now?"

"I don't know. Be still."

"How'd you know what's his name, then?"

"Well, he lives—he lives in a town somewhere. And one day he went out and saw a tree that was simply full of birds. The birds"—

"What did the birds do?"

"The birds sang, of course."

"What did they sing?"

"They sang songs. Now, if you want me to tell you this story you will have to be quiet. So this boy looked up at the birds and"—

"My pajamas don't feel good."

"They never will feel good if you don't stop thinking about them. So this boy looked up at the birds, and—he was a bad boy—and he thought it would be smart to throw a stone at them."

"Did he?"

"Yes, he threw a stone at the poor little birds."

"And what did the stone do?"

"It made the birds fly. And then"—

"Papa."

"Well?"

"What did the fly do?"

"What fly?"

"The fly it made the birds into."

"Robert Gallahue Todd, I am going downstairs, and if you are not asleep in two minutes I shall punish you!"

Mr. Todd strode from the room, and at the stairs he halted at the sight of a woman sitting on the top step with her face in her hands and her shoulders and sides shaking. It was his wife.—Wilbur Nesbit in Success Magazine.

Some Famous "Dunces."

Nathaniel Hawthorne was the dunce of his class. Walter Scott was told by his professor that he was a dunce. Both Napoleon and Wellington were dull boys at school, and when Clive won Plassy his father said he did not think the booby had so much sense. Chalmers, the leader of the disruption, was expelled from his school as an incorrigible dunce. Chatterton was sent home as a fool, and Leigh Hunt was considered beyond all hope. Isaac Newton, the great oriental scholar; Sir William Jones and Robert Morrison, who compiled the immortal Chinese Bible and dictionary, were all regarded as extremely dull boys.—Minneapolis Journal.

Two Duels.

Sainte-Beuve got an excellent advertisement out of a duel fought on a wet day by insisting upon holding his umbrella up with one hand while he fired his pistol with the other. He was willing, he courageously said, to take the risk of being shot, but he must be excused from taking the greater risk of catching cold.

The duel which Benjamin Constant, who suffered from gout, fought sitting in a Bath chair may have been of somewhat similar character. Honor in that case was declared to be satisfied when the Bath chair was hit.—Strand Magazine.

Dangerous.

Father—What are you doing, Emma? Daughter—Oh, Arthur is coming tonight, and I'm cooking something for him. Father—Emma, Emma, you'd better be careful. You'll keep on cooking for him till he breaks the engagement.—Heitere Welt.

It takes a lot of courage on the part of a young man to tell a girl how pretty some other girl is.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Trouble comes natural to some people, just like freckles or curly hair.

How differently our side of a fuss sounds when presented by our enemies!

The chances are if people distrust you the fault lies largely with yourself.

A man never cares a great deal for the pictures taken of him when he was a baby.

The idea that there are two sides to every question didn't originate with any of the parties directly interested.

It is right to start out in life with an ambition, but don't overlook the importance of enjoying the scenery on the way.

When a man picks up a pair of pantaloons he has not worn in a long time, he always feels in the pockets to see if he has left any money in them.—Atchison Globe.

Changed His Motto.

A southern representative in congress is reputed to be of such a persuasive manner that, no matter what party may be in power, he outdoes his colleagues in procuring favors for his constituents.

One afternoon the statesman was met by a newspaper man. "Well, major," asked the latter, "how many appointments and appropriations have you arranged for today? We all know your way of getting everything that you go after."

"Nothing today," responded the representative rather wearily. "My experience this time reminds me of the old Confederate soldier that I knew in Tennessee. 'I went into this war,' said he, 'with the motto "Veni, vidi, vici," and I came out vice versa.'"—St. Louis Republic.

Early Dentistry.

The art of dentistry was practiced among the Egyptians and Etruscans, and there are evidences in mummies and skulls that in very ancient times teeth were filled and efforts were made to supply the loss of natural by artificial teeth. The first writer on the treatment of diseased teeth was Galen. The science was introduced into America by John Greenwood, who established himself in New York in 1788. In 1790 and again in 1795 he carved in ivory an entire set of teeth for General Washington.

Chronic.

"Opposition, opposition; nothing but opposition!"

"What's the matter, dear?"

"My parents objected when I wanted to marry him, and now he kicks because I want a divorce."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

In a German Law Court.

A German law court was the scene lately of an amusing incident. The magistrate, a tiresome and long winded person, was deciding a small case in which the plaintiff claimed damages for abuse. "To call a man a 'pig' or a 'dog,'" replied the judge, "is certainly an insult, but to say that he is a 'pig-dog' is offensive, for no such animal exists." The plaintiff glared at the bench. "Schweine-Hund!" he remarked, with bitter emphasis.—T. P.'s London Weekly.

Every one is bound to bear patiently the results of his own example.—Phaedrus.

It Killed Him.

"I should fancy the laundry business was about as easy as any to start."

"What makes you think so?"

"All you have to do is to lay in a supply of starch."

"Yes."

"Well, that'll starch you all right."

Three days after there was a burial.—London Tit-Bits.

ROBBERY IN PARIS CAFES.

No Prices on Bills of Fare, and Waiters Impose on Guests.

"I tell you," said the returned European traveler, taking up the bill of fare, "it's a good deal of relief to get to a place where one can know the exact cost of things to eat and drink. When on the other side I narrowly escaped nervous prostration because of the latitude in the prices of items on the menu. Paris is about the worst offender among European cities in this respect. In restaurant after restaurant there prices are omitted from the bill of fare simply to give an opportunity to rifle the pockets of the unwary. Take my advice and have as close an approach to an ironclad agreement as possible with your garcon regarding the 'demnition total' of your meal before giving your order. If you don't, there's trouble and pecuniary loss ahead. The waiter, with the connivance of the proprietor of the cafe, will do all he can to impose upon you.

"One tragic story that I can vouch for may be of interest to American tourists. It shows one variety of restaurant robbery in Paris illustrating incidentally French ingenuity. An American woman gave a small luncheon at a well known place to a half dozen friends. She had no intention of making it an elaborate affair. She knew French ways and had a careful estimate made of the cost of the repast ordered. After the second course she noticed that the waiters were pressing upon her guests delicacies for which she had not stipulated, and she observed, too, that a point was made of asking each person if she would have some of this, that or the other thing. Of course the viands were accepted. These extras were succeeded by others, the poor hostess not being able (or felt she was unable, which amounts to the same thing) to stem the tide rapidly overwhelming her pocketbook. When she had a stormy session with the proprietor she could get no satisfaction. The things were offered; they were eaten. Of a surety, madame had ordered them, else they would not have been served. It is impossible that madame would wish to have consequences most unpleasant?' She wisely paid the bill, but the experience cost her dear.

"So, you see, holdups are not confined to our beloved country. In fact, I think that our polite contemporaries over the Atlantic know things about the game about which our desperadoes are in entire ignorance."—New York Press.

Samp and How to Cook It.

Samp is one of the most delicious and appetizing of all corn products or by-products.

Give us the bowl of samp and milk
By homespun beauty poured!

So sang Whittier. Whittier didn't know how to eat. He lived on air. The very suggestion of milk with samp is nauseating. It is worse than mush and milk and grits and cream. Roger Williams knew all about samp, and this is how he had it cooked: Crack the corn into about four pieces to the grain. Soak it all night in water. Skim off the skims which float in water. Boil on a slow fire until tender, with a piece of salt pork in the pot. When the water is dried out, introduce some good butter, some salt and pepper and serve hot. The Indians of Massachusetts used any kind of fresh meat for a flavoring and called the dish "saupac." You may have all your oatmeal, hominy, grits, mush, meal, polenta, etc., but let me have the samp—when I can't get "lye hominy."—New York Press.

The Old English Dames' Schools.

The descriptions of some of the dames' and other schools of the early part of the nineteenth century are exceedingly interesting. Many of these ancient teachers were unable to write an intelligent answer to a simple question. One on being asked as to the terms on which she gave instruction replied: "Not understanding the question, I answer thus: With a view of reading the Bible." We have the authority of the late Lord Shaftesbury for the statement that one of these poor creatures, being asked if she gave moral instruction to her scholars, replied, "No, I can't afford it at 3 shillings a week." A more amusing answer, however, was that of the teacher who was asked whether proper attention was paid to the morals of the boys under his care. His answer was that "they did not teach morals there, as they belonged to the girls' department."—Westminster Gazette.

Insulting.

"I'm not going to that female barber shop again. There's a rude girl there, don't you know." "What did she say?" "Why, she looked at my mustawsh and awsked me if I would have it sponged off or rubbed in."

CATARRH

To prove unquestionably, and beyond any doubt that Catarrh of the nose and throat can be cured, I am furnishing patients through druggists, small free Trial Boxes of Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure. I do this because I am so certain, that Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure will bring actual substantial help. Nothing certainly, is so convincing as a physical test of any article of real, genuine merit. But that article must possess true merit, else the test will condemn, rather than advance it. Dr. Shoop's Catarrh Cure is a snow white, healing antiseptic balm, put up in beautiful nickel capped glass jars at 50c. Such soothing agents as Oil Eucalyptus, Thymol, Menthol, etc., are incorporated into a velvety, cream like Petrolatum, imported by Dr. Shoop from Europe. If Catarrh of the nose and throat has extended to the stomach, then by all means also use internally, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Stomach distress, a lack of general strength, bloating, belching, biliousness, bad taste, etc. surely call for Dr. Shoop's Restorative.

For uncomplicated catarrh only of the nose and throat nothing else, however, need be used but —The Beezer brothers, who built the hotel Dimeling in Clearfield, have gone into bankruptcy, claiming assets to the amount of $225,000 and liabilities amounting to $140,000. It is stated that their failure was due to the fact that Mrs. Thaw, the principal creditor, needed her money to pay the extraordinary expenses of the recent Thaw trial, and tried to force a settlement.

—Last week the interest of Edward Hoy in the Potter-Hoy Hardware store was transferred to Robert Sommerville of Winburn, Pa. The management of the business of the firm will remain the same as before. It is also rumered that Mr. Hoy contemplates the purchase of the lumber and planing mill business of the John Ardell estate in the near future.

—The Installation of Rev. Barry, the new pastor of the Bellefonte Lutheran church, will take place on Thursday evening, July 18, with the usual ceremonies. Rev. Parr, of Lock Haven, and Rev. Her many friends wish her the success in the future that she has met with in the past, and to meet with the same popularity both in business and social life.

—Milton Johnson has beautified his residence on Spring street with several coats of yellow paint. It looks alright and is a great emprovement to that locality. Just south of it on the same side of the street, Harry Yeager is making extended improvments to the Tripple homestead, and by the time he gets through the people who once knew it, will know it no more as the Tripple home. The entire house has been elevated about twenty inches which raises it out of the ground. On the rear a kitchen is being made above which will be added another bed room and a bathroom, on the south side will be another porch. When completed they will have an up-to-date home.

—Sam Johnson, a negro ventriloquist and conjurer, who has been attracting crowds throughout Caroline county, Delaware, his old home district to which he has returned, has been arrested and held for bail for a remarkable act last Thursday. Johnson is simply charged with disorderly conduct and malicious mischief, but his line of disorder was a trifle extraordinary. The charge is that Johnson attended a negro funeral near Denton, and, it is charged, just as the corpse was being lowered into the grave, ventriloquised the words, "Let me down easy." The pall-bearers, led to believe that the dead was speaking from the casket, dropped their burden like a poison, and a panic ensued among the assembled crowd.

Camp Notes.

The Fifth regiment will leave their respective stations, for camp, on Friday July 19, in such time as to arrive in Tipton by noon of that date. The advance details will reach camp on the 18th, and the regular work will be opened on Saturday morning the 20th, at which time the entire brigade will participate in the ceremony connected with the opening of the camp. The Governor's Day, will, it has been officially stated, be on Thursday, July 25th.

Colonel Taylor, impressed upon the minds of his officers on Saturday afternoon that he intends to be very strict at camp, and has appointed an examining board of which Lieutenant Colonel George W. Crede is chairman, who will the first three days of camp, examine the efficency of the non-commissioned officers of each company in the regiment, and the men who fail to come up to the requirements will be reduced to the ranks and others appointed. He said it was his intention to know what his non-commissioned officers knew, and to see that the cheveron stands for something else, besides its money value. This will improve the regimental standing to a great extent.

On Tuesday evening Company B, was put through the swift movements of the manuel of arms and maneuvers over the floor, the boys showed the ginger by coming right up to the dot at every command. Captain Garbrick gave us a list of the men he is going to take along to camp the roster is as follows:

Lebanon, Pa.,—Seeking to aid Brigadier General Dougherty, commander of the Third Brigade, N. G. P., in his determination to keep Camp Wint, at Mount Gretna, next week, free from intoxicants, President Smith of the Cornwell and Lebanon Railroad Company, notified the express company to refuse to accept liquors of all kinds for delivery at camp. This order was rigidly enforced last year by Maj. General Fred Grant during the military school of instruction.

On The Downward Course.

We always feel so sorry for a young man when we see him staggering from one side of the street to the other, under the influence of liquor. He is the laughing stock of those who would be drunk also if they had the dough to buy the stuff. Any one with good common sence wouldn't laugh at a drunkard. We noticed on Saturday a man who was at one time, one of the the brightest school teachers in the country, and was held in high esteem by all who knew him, he never touched a drop then and it has only been of recent years that he has been drinking. And now he is on the downward course with lightning speed. He has one of the best mothers in the country, good kind sisters and a lovely home, but some how or other he has drifted away from these and become a drunkard. We pitied him so when we saw the condition he was in on Saturday.

Fellows if you've got any respect at all for your parents or sisters leave the damnable stuff alone. For as sure as you get started, your prospects in life are stung. And you can never enter into any business deal with a business man, for what man would want a drunkard to deal with. When you are young then is the time to start a good firm foundation.

HIDDEN DANGER.

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No Bellefonte Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

Danger Signal No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy or a thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of ediment and irregular of passage.

Danger Signal No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy, or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the coming of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cures sick kidneys and cure them permanently. Here's Bellefonte proof.

Mrs. Nancy Davis, of 246 East Logan Street, says: "I suffered a bad fall some years ago when living in Rochester. I thought at first that I had broken my back. I was unable to get up without assistance and from that time I suffered for years with a weak back and excruciating pains through the loins and through the small of my back. Sometimes I was completely prostrated and helpless. Doctors and medicines failed to help me and the pain continued until I got Doan's Kidney Pills. I took only a few doses before I began to feel better and when I had continued using them for a while I was thoroughly cured. My back regained its strength and the pain left me. I have had no return of the trouble since."

GLORIOUS FORTH IS ALL OVER.

Jersey Shore and Hecla Park Places Sought by Many People.

Well, the Glorious Fourth of July 1907, has passed into history, and now glad we are that it is so. No doubt today many are suffering from wounds received on that day, and if not from wounds they certainly must have big heads and sour stomachs.

Early Thursday morning we started for Jersey Shore over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, we reached there about nine o'clock and at that early hour the little city was filled with strangers and every train and trolley running into the town was crowded until nearly 20,000 curious, pleasure seeking people thronged the streets.

The town was beautifully decorated almost every building in the burg had some decorations hanging around. The crowd as large as it was only produced one drunken man and he was able to navigate, We walked around over the streets until we were foot sore and tired waiting to see the big parade that started promptly at 1;45 and for almost three quarters of an hour we stood and witnessed one of the finest parades we have seen in years.

The New York Central people had a number of large floats, that represented almost every department in their large shops at Avis. The men were at work on the wagons just as they work in the shops, building cars, engines, and boilers. Every man employed by this company was in line, wearing black caps and shirts and carrying large hammers. Every store and manufacturing plant in and around Jersey Shore had a float representing their business. The parade was at least a mile and a half long.

We left on the 3.09 train for Hecla Park where we saw another large crowd, but not near as large as in former years. The game of base ball between Hecla Park and State College was very well played and gave a great deal of pleasure for base ball lovers. The game was won by State College. The score was 8—4. The merry-go-round was in full sway and many found a great deal of pleasure riding the horses and deer, while others whiled away the time dancing, boating playing the fortune wheel, drinking and fighting.

It does seem strange that so many people go to these pleasure resorts with the sole purpose of picking up a scrap, and Hecla Park certainly did have its share on the Fourth, six pretty good fights took place on the grounds during the day, and on the train going down to the park two fellows came together and the one was chewed up pretty badly. One fellow from town who was all boozed up ran his fist through one of the car windows and almost cut his hand off. All of the fights originated among the drunken class and they caused all of the unpleasant features of the day. Boys wearing knee pants were drunk and created disturbances. No doubt but what the fire company realized a large sum of money from the picnic as everyone seemed to have their purses full and the dough was being spent freely.

The Park never was in better condition than at the present time. The grounds are in good shape, and the flowers are in full bloom, and we are fortunate in having such a lovely little pleasure resort so near the town. The railroad accommodations were first class every train was run according to the published schedule. No accidents occurred on the road and every passenger was carefully looked after by the gentlemanly employee's. The next big picnic at the Park will be the Clinton—Centre County Business Men's gathering. This year the Business Men of the two counties are going to try and make this picnic out class any they have ever held.

—"Ruth" and "Naioma" are coming to Bellefonte.

It is an Awful Shame.

There is work for a good, smart game warden in the east end of Centre county and western part of Clinton. The other day when T. H. Harter and Rev. J. Allison Platts were fishing for trout on Fishing creek, they came across a large doe lying dead in the stream. An investigation revealed the fact that the animal had been shot, evidently at a lick, and making its way to the water had died. The next day the head of a large doe was found in a vacent lot, not far from the same locality, and as the head was fresh when found, it is quite certain that some unprincipled hunters have a lick in the mountains in that section, where they are shooting deer this time of the year, and so far have been successfully covering their tracks.

BRIEF MENTION

Short Items of Local Interest Gathered By The Way Side

—Yeager & Davis the shoe merchants have put up a dandy new awning.

—Andy Mover has concluded to move from Centre Hill to Gilltown, below Pleasant Gap.

—G. Murry Andrews received two very fine driving horses on Saturday over the Central R. R. of Pa. from Valley Forge.

—Merril Shearer who is employed at the Nittany Furnace has a slight attack of blood poison coming from picking a little blister on his hand.

—We are pleased to state that Miss Carolyne Anderson who has been so ill in the hospital is getting along splendidly and will be able to go home in a few days.

—The Match factory has been closed down the past three or four days in order to install a new engine. The factory will likely start work on Tuesday.

—James Bailey the up town tonsorial artist has been offered the position of Company barber in Co. B. Mr. Bailey accepted and will accompany the boys to camp.

—S. B. Beyers, of Tyrone. J. D. Townsend, Williamsport; and E. M. Huyett, of Bellefonte appraised the Ardedli Lumber Establishment on Monday.

—Lee Adams a former Bellefonte boy was married last week to a young lady at Hudson, N. Y. They will go to housekeeping at Schenectady, N. Y., where Lee has an excellent position. We wish them both joy and happiness through life.

—A valuable team of gray horses owned by Mr. Hipple a farmer living near Unionville ran away Friday evening and got on the Bald Eagle R. R. tracks and were killed by an extra freight train. The animals were valued at $500.

—Miss Ann Nolan, Deputy Register had a few days vacation last week and just rested up. She resumed her work Monday at the Court House. Miss Nolan is a very accomplished young lady and fills her position to perfection.

—Mr. Murry one of the track Foremen of the P. R. R. Co. living at Milesburg was hurt Tuesday by having a heavy rail fall on his leg. He was carried to his home at Milesburg where he received medical attention.

—The classical and mathematical prize offered to students of the Bellefonte Academy have been announced as follows: Classical prize of $5.00 to Miss Rebecca Jacobs, of Bellefonte; the James Potter Hughes Mathematical prize of $10.00 to Mr. Harry Hockman, of Hecla Park.

—Samuel Deihl has been appointed Inspector of the new road to be built by R. B. Taylor between Bellefonte and Milesburg. Mr. Deihl received his appointment from the State Highway Commissioners on Saturday. The new road will be started on Tuesday.

—William Wallace Smith who attended the Bellefonte academy during the school term just past, passed his Princeton examinations successfully and and will enter that wonderful institution of learning in the fall. Mr. Smith is a son of Judge Smith of Clearfield County.

—While working at his fathers sawmill William Shope was struck with a bolt from the machine. He was knocked down and suffered a great deal of pain. He was taken to his parents home on Thomas street where he received medical treatment. We sincerely hope he will not suffer any serious results from the injury.

—Francis Murphy, the great temperance advocate is lying seriously ill in Los Angeles, California. His disease is diabetes, and his condition is such that it is believed an operation will be imperative. Two of his sons from Pennsylvania will reach his bed side today. Francis Murphy is the father of Lieutenant Governor Robert S. Murphy of this state.

—The room recently made vacant by the Roosevelt club is being used by the drunks around the town. This is bad business and some of these nights you will hear the fire alarm and the Bush House will be a goner. The room is in a filthy condition, paper and rubbish a foot deep and a spark from a lighted cigarrette or a match would soon set the place on fire.

—The Roster of Company B, was made out in a manner that is a great credit to Orderly Sergeant Poorman. The Roster has been posted in the armory. Every man has his gun and the number assigned to him. The company carries 62 men on the roll. The Boys in the company will do all in their power to get up to the top notch at camp, for they are working hard for honors.

—Mrs. James Stine is quite ill at her home on Thomas street.

—The Cresent base ball team was terribly stung at Millheim on the 4th. The score was 17-2,

—A. A. Hoffman has purchased a new Buick automobile. It is a large touring car and is certainly a dandy

—Frank Steel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Steel has been appointed billing clerk at the Central Railroad of the Pa. freight depot.

—While riding a freight train Lawrence Cowher had the misfortune of breaking his arm on Wednesday. The accident happened near Julian.

—Miss Ione Donachy who underwent an operation at the Bellefonte Hospital for appendicitis is getting along nicely and will be able to be taken home in a few days.

—Dorothy Sourbeck the pretty little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sourbeck is quite ill at her parents home on High street with the whooping cough.

—A great many families throughout the town spent the day pleasantly on the 4th up along Spring Creek near the "Willowe." The prettiest spot in the county to spend a day of this kind.

—Boyd Sampsell is now holding down the position as driver for John Olewine the Hardware dealer. Boyd is a splendid horseman and knows how to attend to business.

—Roger Brouse has put up a splendid big awning in front of his grocery store. It would certainly improve the appearance of the other stores in that building if they would follow suit.

—Friday evening of this week at 7:30 the first of a brief series of talks on his European travels, will be given by Rev. Ambrose M. Schmidt in St. John's Reformed church. The public is cordially invited.

—Miss Minnie Cole entertained her Sunday School Class at Hecla Park Tuesday. Miss Cole is a teacher in the St. John's Reformed Sunday School. The little folks certainly did enjoy the day, boating, playing games and eating good things.

—Miss Betty Heinle had a severe attack of tonsilitis since last week, her father has been by her side almost constantly as nurse under the direction of Dr. Seibert the attending physician. She is better today and a speedy recovery is expected.

—Clarence Love who has been off from work the past three weeks with a badly burned foot, returned to Altoona Sunday afternoon. He is a moulder by trade and when pouring out the hot metal some of it fell on his foot. He was able to go to work Monday.

—While unloading some goods from a wagon in front of the Hagg Hotel on Tuesday, a barrel rolled on Harry Hagg's leg and fractured the limb near the knee. Mr. Hagg is suffering fearfully from the injury and we sincerely hope the broken limb will speedily mend.

—The combined Sunday Schools of Milesburg will hold their annual picnic at Hecla Park on Wednesday July 17th, 1907. This is proving to be one of the finest gatherings that go to the park and no doubt a very large crowd will attend. The Bellefonte people are cordially invited.

—On Tuesday evening quite a scrap took place in front of the Bush House between the two Carter boys and for a little while a battle firce raged. Neither one of them were hurt very badly and after a few hours contemplation in the lock-up, the boys were released promising that they would be good.

—Mr. Jesse A. Aikens who was so badly burned on the 3rd of July at Lemont and brought to the Bellefonte hospital is getting along nicely. Mr. Aikens was one of the best and highest price performers with the Smith circus that was showing at that town and his misfortune has caused a great loss to the management of the show. Over and over again we have had inquiries in regards to this young man from his friends at Lemont, and now we can cheerfully say he will soon be well.

—A young wedding party arrived home some time during the past week and went to the grooms home in the West Ward. On Monday evening a bunch of boys and girls went out to serenade them and for nearly two hours they kept up the jollification. At last the groom opened the window and threw them two lemons. Some very kind neighbors telephoned for the police to disperse the crowd. No doubt the boys felt like saying, "Long live the bride and groom.

—The Pennsylvania railroad will, during the encampment of the Second Brigade of the National Guard at Tiptour run special trains for the accommodation of the visitors to the camp. It is practically settled that the specials will be put on Sunday and also on the day Governor Stuart will visit the soldier boys, but it is doubtful if they will be continued through the entire eight days. The intention of the officials is to run the trains between Altoona and Huntingdon. The schedule is now made out.

PRETTY WEDDING AT THE GAP

Miss Edith Lutz of Centre Hall Becomes The Wife of Mr. Elwood Brooks.

On Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock Miss Edith Lutz of Centre Hall became the wife of Elwood Brooks formerly of Pleasant Gap but lately of Altoona.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. J. B. Durkee at the Methodist Episcopal Manse at Pleasant Gap, only the immediate friends being present.

After the words were said that made the happy young couple man and wife, a delightful wedding dinner was served at the home of the grooms parents Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks at the Gap. After which the young bride and groom were brought to Bellefonte where they boarded the 4:43 train west. After a short wedding tour to western cities they well return to Altoona where they will reside until fall. They will then come back to Centre County where Mr. Brooks has [redacted] lumber contract to get out. [redacted] is an accomplished young lady and like all good country girls understands how a home should be kept. She is a prominent Granger and holds a responsible position in that organization. For several years past she has been one of the efficient operators in the Commercial exchange at Centre Hall and through her kind courteous manner to the many patrons, she has won hosts of friends.

The groom is a sturdy industrious young fellow and is employed at this trade in the Railroad city. He will make her a kind, good husband. This paper joins in with their many friends to wish them a happy voyage through life.

ARE YOU GOING AWAY?

No—Then Get Away From Here!

And the Railroad Company has taken the matter up, that is, getting rid of the train runners. Over and over again we published articles about girls running to the trains, for nothing more than to see it come in and see whether they can catch a fellow. On Saturday night a man got off the train and walked up to a bunch of these "trotters" and asked them whether they were going away, they said no, "well then" said the gentleman "you will have to get away from here." Several bunches of girls he moved, one girl refused to go and then he told her he would have her locked up, tell you what she moved away at a rapid pace. So now unless you have business at the station, meeting some one or seeing some of your friends away, it will not be well to loaf there. It is a splendid idea. And the Railroad Company deserves the greatest credit for this move it should have been inaugurated long ago. Some times it is utterly impossible for passengers to get on or off the train on account of the "train runners." Now that the Company is looking into the matter and intend to put a stop to it, perhaps the girls will find more time to spend at home.

The Bucket Shops must go.

They are illegal and why should they be allowed to run any more than any other gambling joint. If someone would come into the town and open up a house where a game of poker was to be played for money, don't you think the people would rise up against it? Of course they would. Have they any more right to run a bucket shop o gambling den than for the pool rooms and cigar stores to have the old time Slought Machines? None in the least and the sooner they are put out of town, the better.
